Leaders Favor Talks on Truce;
Parley May Be Called at Geneva

GENEVA (UP)—The Western Allies and Russia were reported tonight to be nearing agreement on an early Indo-Chinese peace conference. Informed Western officials said talks aimed at ending the long and bloody war in Southeast Asia may begin by next week.

Cleared

Winner in a court fight over custody of her two "neglected" children, actress Rita Hayworth, above, met with ex-husband Prince Aly Khan today in New York to hammer out a financial settlement for their daughter. The settlement was reported to be $1.5 million. Rita was cleared in a White Plains, N.Y., court Monday of charges she neglected Aly's daughter, Yasmin, 4, and Rebecca Welles, 9, daughter of Rita's second husband, movie actor Orson Welles. Court informed Rita she could keep custody of the children after she promised in a two-hour conference to send Rebecca to school and not take either child out of New York State for three months.

France has been pressing urgently for a formula to end the Indo-Chinese fighting before the Geneva conference becomes bogged down in wordy arguments over a Korean peace.

French delegates conferred with both Soviet and Western delegations today in an attempt to get first priority for the Indo-China issue. Originally it was not to have been discussed until the Korean question was disposed of.

Indications mounted that France, the United States and Britain might be willing, in hastily arranged Indo-China talks, to agree to partition of the war-torn peninsula as a last resort to end the eight-year-old war.

France was known to be eager to start work on some formula for ending the fighting before the French military situation declines further.

DID NOT COME UP

As originally arranged, a permanent solution for divided Korea was to have been discussed before the problem of Indo-China was considered.

French sources said the question of a cease-fire in Indo-China did not come up at the Bidault-Molotov meeting.

However, speculation about the possibility was rife on both sides.

CCF Drops Activity In Vancouver Politics

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The CCF party today withdrew from Vancouver civic politics but urged its members to continue an "active interest" in civic affairs. "The CCF will not be running candidates in the Vancouver civic elections," the statement said.

Sultans and Sheiks Pay Homage to Queen

ADEN (CP)—Colorfully turbaned Arabs, sultans and sheiks of Britain's Aden protectorate pledged their loyalty today before the Queen.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at this Indian Ocean seaport colony early today aboard the Royal liner Gothia on the homeward stretch of their world circling tour which began last November. The Queen, dressed in a lemon-yellow silk gown, held an umbrella as protection from the sun as she and the duke rode in an open car to a reviewing stand placed in front of a statue of Queen Victoria.

A camel corps and gaily uniformed Aden Bedouin troops marched past to pay their respects.

The Queen appeared much thinner than at the start of the tour, but looked cool despite the 90-degree heat.

Socreds Would Flood Canada With Money

OTTAWA (CP)—The Alberta Social Credit government proposed today that Canada put into circulation extra hundreds of millions of dollars which the federal government would borrow without interest from the Bank of Canada.

It proposed also that the central bank lend money fairly freely to chartered banks to allow maintenance of a high level of cash reserves and to boost the circulation of money in the country.

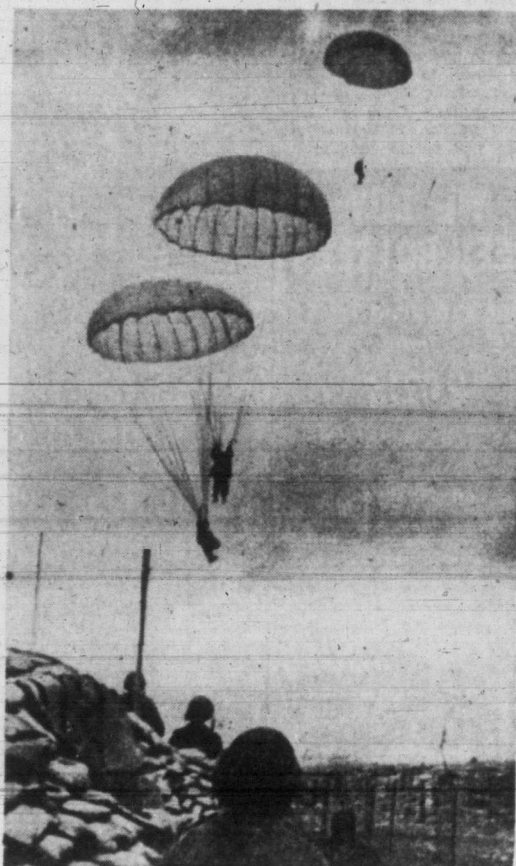

These and other proposals were made before the Commons banking committee by Lucien Maynard, Alberta's attorney-general.

The theme of Mr. Maynard's 120-page brief was that only by vastly increasing the country's money supply could consumers buy up all surplus production, thus encouraging advancement in the country's economy.

Smallwood Issues Challenge to Opposition MLAs

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood Monday challenged Opposition members in the legislature to move a vote of non-confidence in himself or the government on the red-hot Newfoundland industrial development issue.

The premier told the legislature he will lay a further charge against Dr. Valdemar, saying that he secretly collected other very large sums of money from another European company with whom the government had a contract.

Paratroopers Aid Fort

Hitting the few square yards left to the garrison French paratroopers reach Dien Bien Phu, the fortress that has withstood wave after wave of attacks by Communist troops in Indo-China. Today the fort was being subjected to a new Red assault as the rebels attempted to seize isolated "Isabella" fortress which guards besieged Dien Bien Phu from the south. The new assault began under cover of heavy artillery fire. French defenders took heart from violent isolated storms signalling the approaching monsoon season. The first American casualty of the vital airlift was announced today. Paul Holden, 32, of Greenleaf, Kans., chief pilot of the Civil Transport Airline, suffered severe wounds in the thigh and arm from Red anti-aircraft fire while dropping supplies to the fortress. ## Mrs. Brown Case To Jury Today

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—The case of 24-year-old Mrs. Alberta Brown, charged with slaying a telegraph lineman, is expected to go to a jury in Assize Court late today.

Mrs. Brown was charged with murder following the shooting of William Zahar, also known as Willie Johnson, at her home last Dec. 12.

The shooting occurred at the Brown home on Turner Road, three miles west of Mission. The attractive blonde mother of three children will not be called to the stand, but defense attorney Thomas Dohm said he would call her husband to testify.

Mrs. Brown in a statement to police said she fired a shot through the door of her home when Zahar tried to force his way in at midnight.

She told police she first met Zahar early in December when he came to her house with "a long story" about her husband at Kemano and another woman. Mr. Dohm said he would call Mr. Brown to the stand to show that Zahar had told Mrs. Brown a "cock-and-bull" story of his friendship at Kemano.

'No Commitments' Says Churchill

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today Britain will make no commitments on military action in Indo-China in advance of the results of the Geneva conference.

"We have not entered into any new military or political commitments," Churchill told the cheering House.

162-Year Scottish Castle Blown Up by 10-Year-Old

GLASGOW, Scotland (Reuters)—A 162-year-old castle overlooking Loch Lomond today was a pile of rubble after being blown up by a 10-year-old boy.

Police stood by watching Monday as the lad, Sam Anderson, son of a Glasgow building contractor, set off 200 pounds of explosive destroying Tullichewan Castle.

The police had no reason to interfere because the castle belonged to young Sam's father. His father wasn't complaining either. He was the one who arranged to have the castle and its 350-foot tower destroyed because he could not afford the 1500 a year taxes on the old landmark.

The police were on hand to keep back the crowds which had gathered to witness the explosion. Workmen had drilled 300 holes in the castle's six-foot-thick walls.

Fine Weather Forecast For Ballot Wednesday

Well over 20,000 Victorians are expected at the polls Wednesday to decide their city's future drinking habits.

The issue is whether or not Victoria is to have the new type liquor outlets provided for in the new liquor act, introduced by the B.C. Legislature last year.

All indications forecast a big vote. The weather should encourage the few who might be half-hearted about turning out. It will be a sunny day.

The issue has formed strong forces on either side and each has waged a vigorous campaign. The matter has been debated in public; thrashed out by various groups in private, and discussed in practically every home.

ISSUE DECIDED

On the eve of the vote, few people are undecided. After careful consideration, most have made up their minds as to how they will mark the four questions they must answer on the ballot.

Victoria has been building up to this vote since 1950 when citizens voted solely on the question of beer parlors. They rejected parlors then: 11,093 voting no, and 8,599 voting yes.

Here and elsewhere in the province, agitation grew for revision of the liquor law. In 1952, the whole province voted on the "liquor-by-the-glass plebiscite." The result in Victoria: 13,458 in favor of sale by the glass and 10,936 against.

As this was the general attitude of the whole province, the government set to work to scrap the old liquor law and to introduce a new one.

FOUR TYPES

It made provision, however, for citizens in each licensing area to pick and choose as to just how far they wished to go in opening up new outlets.

The Victoria plebiscite Wednesday will deal with all four types of permissible outlets—beer parlors, restaurants serving beer, ale, stout and wine; cabarets and cocktail bars.

Each question will be tallied separately and in each case a 55 per cent or better "yes" vote will be required before that particular type of outlet will be licensed.

Both the "yes" and "no" camps are working toward a large turnout of voters.

The Common-Sense Liquor Law Committee, asking people to vote "yes," and the Greater Victoria Citizens' Association, urging a "no" vote, are each conducting telephone campaigns, requesting people to exercise their franchise.

CAR POOL

In addition, each side has organized a car pool for transporting persons to the polls who cannot get their any other way.

There are 34 polling places located throughout the city.

NANAIMO GETS FIRST LIQUOR LICENSE

First new liquor licenses on Vancouver Island were approved today by liquor control board chairman D. McGugan.

Two licenses, a dining-lounge license and a lounge license, will be granted the Malaspina Hotel, Nanaimo.

This was the first LCB announcement of licenses approved for V.I.

They will become effective shortly after the hotel completes alterations to its premises.

Lawyer Cited In Duncan's 'Brother' Case

'Obstruction' Laid Against Counsel

DUNCAN — Ronald McMillan Howard, North Vancouver lawyer, is scheduled to appear in police court here Wednesday morning to face a charge of obstructing the course of justice by deliberately misleading the court.

The charge arose out of identification of Douglas John Nelson last February 19, when Nelson was charged with selling beer to two constables.

At the trial, constables pointed out Leslie E. Nelson, Vancouver, brother of the accused, as the man who had sold them beer February 3. Leslie Nelson, standing at the rear of the courtroom, said he was in Vancouver at the time of the alleged offense.

After a five-minute recess, accused appeared, and on giving his name had the charge against him dismissed.

A few weeks later, however, he was charged by RCMP for a similar offense, and was found guilty.

Stevens-Schine Photo Doctored Army Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army charged today that a "doctored" photograph of Army Secretary Stevens with Pte. G. David Schine was introduced in the McCarthy-army hearings.

Joseph N. Welch, army counsel, protested to the Senate investigations sub-committee that the picture had been "shamefully" cut down to make it appear Stevens and Schine had been alone.

Yet, he said, it was introduced "as if it was honest."

The picture was presented to the hearing Monday by Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the sub-committee. However, Welch said he is sure Jenkins was "imposed upon." His implication was that the picture had been misrepresented to Jenkins by Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep.-Wis.) or those aiding McCarthy in the present hearings on the senator's dispute with army officials.

MALENKOV NAMES NEW MVD CHIEF

LONDON (AP)—Premier Georgi Malenkov reorganized the Soviet government today in a sweeping shakeup that brought in a new chief of the Russian secret police.

Malenkov handed over control of the MVD to A. I. Serov.

Serov took over control of the secret police from Interior Minister S. N. Kruglov, who retained his title.

Kruglov replaced Lavrenty Beria as MVD boss after Beria was arrested last year. Beria later was shot as a traitor.

EIGHTH DAY, ONE MORE TO GO

Audrey Tightens Belt Determined To Meet That 10-Pound Challenge

Audrey St. Denis Johnson, whose music and drama criticisms are well known to Times readers, is in a new role. She has consented to try out Josephine Lowman's 9-day diet and tell readers how it works. Her fifth report appears below. Today's diet is on Page 16.

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

What one little word of encouragement can do! Since the scales smiled on me on Sunday I'm filled with ambition to excel in the weight-lifting race.

With the record standing even at five days—five pounds, with the sixth day gone and the seventh on the wane, I realize I have to do even better if I am to meet the 10-pound challenge. So I am tightening my belt—and believe me, some of them need tightening—and watching with an even more eagle eye the exact measurements of that piece of meat and that helping of squash or beans.

I'm sure it would rejoice Josephine Lowman's heart if she could see with what trust and faithfulness I am following her spartan diet. Not that it seems really spartan to me now. After the first couple of days the shock of the sudden descent from the heights of gluttony passes, and one accepts the inevitable and even finds in it a sufficiency.

In fact, others have even more spartan ideas. My friend, Tom Merriam, whom you will remember experimented with the Lowman tubby hubby diet a while back, advises me to entirely eliminate salt.

"Then," says he, "food will become so repulsive to you, you won't have any desire to eat!"

All my friends are getting into the act one way, and

HEARINGS: In New York an exclusive Fifth Avenue department store delighted the fashion world and appalled the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals recently when it began selling earrings containing guppies.

Informed that putting fish in earrings might be an act of cruelty the store now sells the earrings minus the guppies and customers head for the nearest pet shop to fill their own dangling aquariums.

FAST: In Chicago a Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable learned yesterday that Chicago police are pretty fast when it comes to "getting their man."

Arvid Landstrom, of Toronto, Ont., honeymooning here with his bride, reported to police that his auto was looted of $450 worth of clothing.

Police took him to central headquarters and returned his clothing. They had arrested the thief and confiscated the clothing an hour before the Mountie reported the crime.

Threat Changed Tour Plan

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—A Mau Mau death threat, it was revealed today, led to recently announced changes in plans for the visit of Queen Elizabeth to Uganda.

The threat, according to a reliable source, was contained in a letter from a Mau Mau leader, Dedan Kimathi. It said the Queen would be shot if she came to the colony.

The source said the letter was received by Governor Sir Andrew Cohen. A conference of military and civilian leaders was called in Nairobi and it was decided to delete Kampala and cross-country car drives from the Queen's program.

$1.5 Million Saanich Schools Vote May 29

Ratepayers in School District 63, comprising the northern part of Saanich, the whole of Central Saanich, the village of Sidney and Sanorganized territory at the end of Saanich Peninsula, will vote May 29 on a $1,500,000 school expansion program.

The board of District 63 will ask for endorsement of a program consisting of 22 projects to be spread over a six-year period. In addition to providing enlarged facilities at existing schools, four new buildings are contemplated.

Originally it was intended to submit the program to ratepayers last December. The controversy which waged in Victoria, however, over legality of a referendum vote led the outer board to await clarification by the Legislature. This resulted at the recent session.

Daily Dusting

YEARS of medical research sponsored by the Ontario Mining Association may have found the answer to silicosis, the disease which attacks the lungs of miners exposed to silica dust. Curiously enough, the treatment consists of breathing very fine aluminum dust directly into the lungs; the aluminum renders the silica particles harmless. The treatment has been adopted in gold and other mining areas in Canada and throughout the world.

Aluminum, long used in hospital kitchens, today serves the medical profession in many ways—from aluminum foil for covering serious burns, to aluminum acetate for medical dressings, to aluminum blenders for the preparation of sterile biological products. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

Saanich firemen are fast but a police constable left them in his dust Monday night when an alarm came in. A spark from a fireplace had ignited drapes and caused severe damage to a living room at 4081 Grange, home of Eric Bullock.

Saanich firemen responded but found Constable Ed Anderson on the job when they arrived. He lives next door at 4080 Grange and his wife had phoned the alarm. Somehow, when the address was broadcast on a police fire hook-up, it was Constable Anderson's house which was reported to be burning.

WELLAND, Ont. (BUP)—Bruce MacLean, who is alleged to have boasted of committing the perfect crime, was behind bars today awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering his 20-year-old wife Elizabeth last August.

MacLean was arrested Monday shortly after he was freed on bail on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences.

His arrest came after police reopened an investigation into Mrs. MacLean's drowning on the basis of charges made against MacLean by his one-time-girl friend last week.

Sylvia Davies, 20, of Port Colborne, Ont., testified in court that she had loaned MacLean $1,600 to pay off a debt on his house after they became engaged. She charged that MacLean threatened "to get rid of me too" after boasting that he had committed a "perfect crime" when she tried to get the money back.

She told the court that MacLean admitted upsetting a canoe in which he and his wife were riding in the Welland River. Miss Davies said MacLean told her he swam around the overturned canoe until he was sure his wife had drowned.

MacLean was arrested on the murder charge when he appeared at the police station to pick up his effects.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. D. Watt and remanded to April 30 for a preliminary hearing.

This is the first national YWCA week in Canada. Across the country 44,000 members of this organization are making plans for the biggest birthday party ever—the 100th anniversary of the YWCA in early 1955.

Half-Million Expenditure By Bank Here

Montreal Office
To Be Enlarged

Expansion and renovation of the Bank of Montreal main branch at Douglas and Yates, was revealed today by A. S. C. Black, acting manager.

Tenders will be called in the near future, Mr. Black said. Cost of the new addition is estimated at $500,000.

The project includes the demolition of the adjacent Gray block, housing a newsstand, a novelty shop and millinery store, with offices above on Yates Street. Construction is expected to begin within two months.

The new addition was planned four years ago when the bank purchased the property, Mr. Black said. It will be built with the same grey stone as the old offices and the main entrance will be on Douglas.

Mr. Black said there will be a large public concourse and the tellers' cages and offices will surround the rotunda in a horseshoe shape.

Saanich Star-Gazers Will Peek at Mars

Scientists at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, on Little Saanich Mountain, are going to join with thousands of star-gazers around the world on June 25 in taking a close squint at Mars.

On that day, Earth's nearest space neighbor is going to come almost within hailing distance—40,300,000 miles—and directly opposite our planet.

The Victoria scientists will not partake in the extensive tests to be carried out at observatories closer to the equator. But members of the staff say they will take a peek.

For June 25 could bring an answer to the controversy on whether there are canals on Mars, and whether any vegetation exists in its hot-cold atmosphere.

Astronomers have argued the canal question for centuries. Some say they definitely exist; others say they are nothing more than imagination.

Giant telescopes will also seek the answer to the planet's modern offices in the bank system," said Mr. Black. "The addition will make the bank the biggest of any branches in B.C., second only to provincial head offices in Vancouver."

Drew Still Wants Talks On Tax Deal

OTTAWA (CP)—A Liberal backbencher from Quebec has suggested that the Quebec government give up its new 15 per cent personal income tax in favor of a tax agreement with the federal government.

Bona Arseneault, Bonaventure, said Monday in the Commons that agreement might be reached on that basis, with Quebec retaining its right to levy corporation taxes and succession duties.

A federal tax agreement with Quebec, the only province without one, would allow the province to share fully in the country's economic growth, he said as the House resumed the budget debate after an 11-day Easter recess.

DREW SPEAKS

A related proposal was put forward by Opposition Leader Drew who asked that the 1950 federal-provincial conference on constitutional amendments be resumed and allowed to discuss all federal-provincial problems, including fiscal ones.

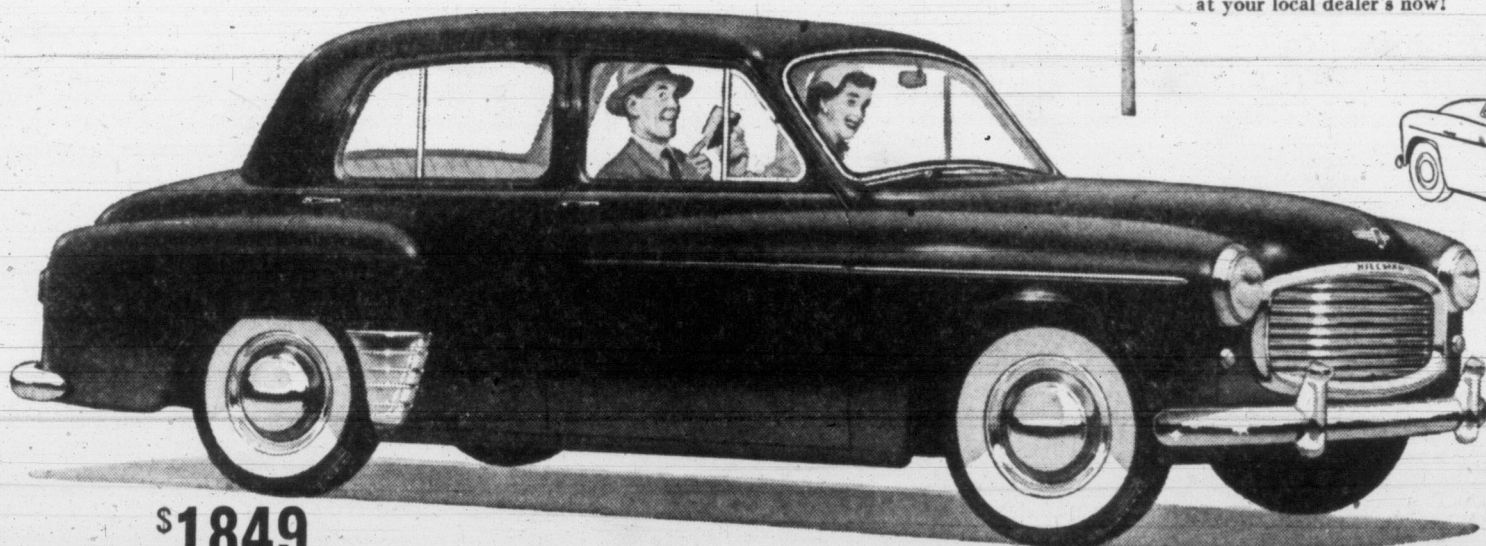

His motion was made as the Commons considered a government motion to bring in the estimates of several departments. It was ruled out of order and Mr. Drew withdrew it.

Mr. Drew said every province had asked for a conference on taxation and constitutional issues. As he did before the Easter recess, he urged Prime Minister St. Laurent to summon such a conference. The prime minister did not reply.

Rev. William Hills will be guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Young Adult Club of the YMCA at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Tomorrow's Liquor Vote

VICTORIA VOTERS WILL DECIDE tomorrow whether or not this city shall reverse the decision reached in the June, 1952, liquor plebiscite. At that time a majority voted in favor of "the sale of spirituous liquor and wine by the glass in establishments licensed for such purposes."

In the ensuing period nothing has happened to justify any change in public opinion on that point. The proposed new liquor system—drafted by the present Government—has not been tried.

The electors of Victoria have before them for their guidance only the Stevens report, whose recommendations provide the basis for the specific questions asked on tomorrow's ballot.

When the opponents of any change in the law argue for a "no" vote, they are not, therefore, arguing against any system in force. They are arguing against the Stevens report and the decision of the electors two years ago.

They are, in fact, arguing in favor of the existing system, which was condemned by the majority of British Columbians, by Victorians and by the members of the Stevens Commission.

They are saying that there is no preferable system now available.

It is for the electors to decide whether they approve the present system with its familiar evils or whether another advocated by a non-partisan commission should be given a fair trial—whether Victoria shall be the only important centre in British Columbia which compels the purchase of liquor by the bottle.

Apart from the pros and cons of the liquor question itself, there is a distinct danger that no clear decision will be rendered in tomorrow's ballot.

It is reasonable to assume that opponents of change will vote "no" on all four questions on the ballot. Those dissatisfied with the sale of liquor under existing regulations may split their vote between the different options.

It would seem that the cause of temperance would be served if Victoria should authorize at least the consumption of drinks with food.

If that is made a basic ingredient of the "yes" vote, it could overcome, in part at least, the possibility that a majority of voters opposed to the present system might so divide their votes that a minority against change could carry the day.

At all events it is vitally important that everyone entitled to vote should mark a ballot so the plebiscite will reflect as genuinely as possible the will of the majority.

'Let There Be Light'

ONE OF THE BIG FINANCIAL problems faced by the blind people of Canada is described elsewhere on this page. Briefly, it presents facts to show how existing pension regulations, involving a continuing means test, destroy the incentive among the sightless to increase their earnings. If they make more than a modest sum their government allowances are placed in jeopardy.

A strong case is made, in the article, to persuade the present administration to change its regulations in a way to assist the blind.

At one time these people were in the same position as the aged requiring assistance. Since the advent of universal old age pensions, the aged no longer undergo the means test.

If it is impossible for the Government to accord the same treatment to the blind, then surely it should make provision, through the Income Tax Act, to permit the sightless to earn a greater amount of money without risking loss of pensions or the constant harassment of investigation into their own living and those of their close relatives. If income and pension are to be subject to special checks and balances, then the income tax should be the balancing factor.

Those who have worked with the blind, or have had only superficial contact with them, are impressed by the courage so generally shown by people who live in physical darkness. These are young and old citizens, men and women, who are anxious to take as full a part in life as their remaining senses will permit them. They seem, in most instances, to have compensating powers for the loss of sight and they usually wish to exercise them in constructive ways.

That is important to them not only in the task of helping to earn their living, but in giving them a sense of self-respect and relative independence. Their enjoyment of life is aided immeasurably when they feel they are doing something useful.

Under existing regulations that worthwhile ambition is discouraged. When the blind are not inspired to help themselves—as so many want to—they automatically become a heavier burden on their relatives and the public.

Not only for the benefit of the blind, but for the good of the country, those regulations should be changed. Common sense and the impulse of humanity should persuade the Government to act now, during the present session, to let a little more light into lives that are physically dark.

Report Cards and Homework

REPORTS FROM THE B.C. Teachers' Federation convention in Vancouver have indicated an interesting attitude. The teachers want a return to a more conventional form of report card and a greater amount of homework.

The report card issue has been debated for years. Parents didn't like the modern versions which, in the lower grades at least, measured a child's progress against his own ability, without regard for his comparative standing in the class. By such reports, a child of slight ability might take home a card indicating a misleadingly high standard of performance unrelated to the work of his fellow students.

Rightly or wrongly, parents decided that such report cards meant little to them. They could not tell where their child stood in his work.

The trend recently has been away from that indefiniteness to a more positive identification of the child's position in class. It would become more so if the teachers had their way. And mothers and fathers would once again receive reports which actually reported to them. They would, in other words, become more closely associated with the school processes through knowledge of the child's progress.

The second suggestion from the teachers—more homework—implies even closer liaison with the schools. Parents would, if the proposal were adopted, have a greater opportunity to see their youngsters at work on their books. This does not mean that the average father or mother would necessarily take a more direct interest in the studies, but they would be encouraged to.

Public reaction to the suggestions will be interesting. In recent years the conventional complaint has been that the school seeks to take over too much of the responsibility that should have remained with the home. The teachers' homework plan would reverse that policy, making the home take over a little more of the school's work. And how will that be received in households devoting more and more time to television, radio and community organization meetings?

Operating a Fund in Trust

THE RESULTS OF THE NATURAL resources conference held last week in Ottawa will become more evident when the conclusions reached are distributed among industrial heads and the Federal and provincial governments.

The basic principle of conservation can by now have few opponents. The cut-and-get-out policies of an earlier era have long been out of style, for the "illimitable resources" on which orators were wont to enlarge have been proved to have definite limits; their "vastness" has been reduced to statistical proportions of so-much-a-year, and their too-rapid exploitation has been shown to be both uneconomic and unwise.

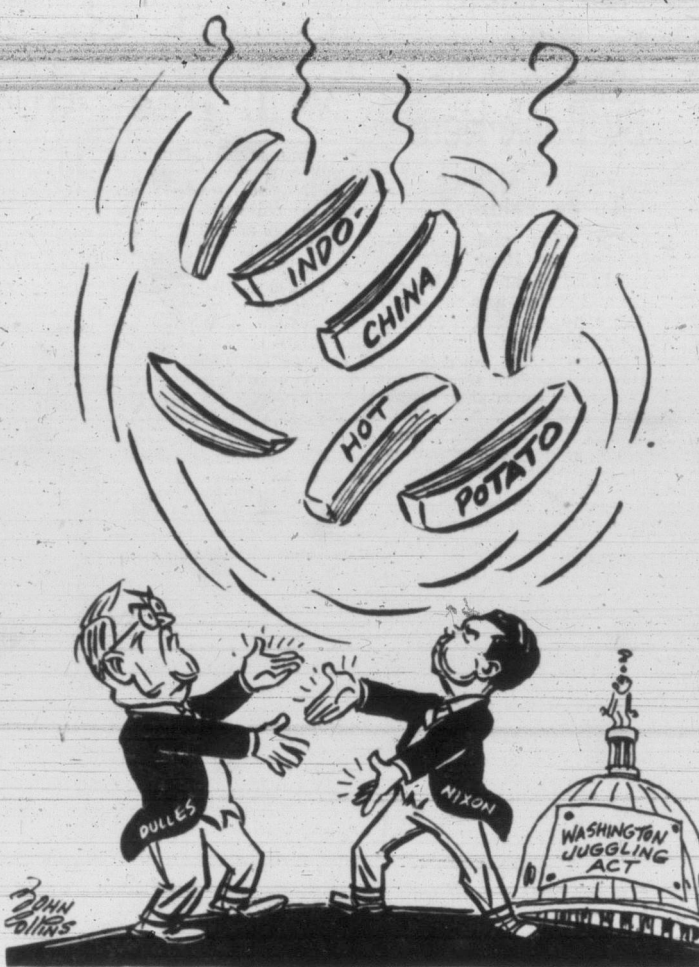

Whether the resource is fish, or trees, or soil, or water-power, whether metals, coal or recreational areas, its use must be governed by the extent of its reserves, its replaceability, the present and future needs for it, and its relationship to other resources.

The guiding principle in forming policy on such resources—which, regardless of their current ownership are in the final analysis an asset of the community at large—was well summed up in a recent statement by Mr. W. J. Borrie of Vancouver, President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

"The urgency of conservation of resources," said Mr. Borrie, "is taking a grip on public opinion as in no previous stage of our history. I look upon that as the most cheering proof that Canadians now understand they're not spending an inheritance, but operating a trust fund."

The Case for the Blind

THE BLIND people of Canada, though their handicap is hard and unimaginable to any man with sight, are anxious to earn their own living. But they are discouraged from work, they are encouraged in idleness and dependence, under the existing Blindness Allowance Act. For their sake, and for the sake of society as a whole, that policy should be changed.

A humane society recognizes, through its Government and Parliament, that the blind enter the struggle of life inevitably far behind all other competitors. Most profitable occupations are closed to them. In all but a very few cases they are poor, and yet, since they must usually pay someone to perform the ordinary services which men with eyes can do easily for themselves, the blind actually require more money than the sighted.

Hutchison

They do not expect the state to give it to them. Every blind man, save the few who have inherited wealth, knows that he can never hope for economic equality with his fellows. That hope went with his sight.

The blind, however, have been given a measure of compensation and protection by a pension of $40 a month. They were thus placed on a parity with the aged, who likewise were unable to maintain themselves completely.

When the pension scheme began, all pensioners, the blind and the old alike, were subject to a means test. If they possessed sufficient means of their own they were refused a pension.

In 1951 the means test was removed from all old age pensioners of seventy years and over. But it was not removed from the blind. To couple the two groups together for many years and then suddenly divide them, under different regulations, is a serious injustice to the blind.

WHEN the blind ask for the removal of the means test it is said that the state cannot afford to establish such a precedent lest other pensioners—war veterans for example—would seek the same treatment. The answer to this argument is that the case of the blind is unique. If anyone doubts this, let him ask himself if he would exchange any of his present handicaps, however serious, for blindness.

No matter what the State may do it cannot give the blind any semblance of equality with seeing Canadians. But the State can give the blind every possible opportunity to help themselves, and thus to reduce their dependence on society at large. This, unfortunately, the State is not doing under its present policy. It is doing just the opposite.

THE blind man cannot secure any pension if he has a private income of more than $840 a year. As a result, the officials of the Government are constantly investigating, as is their duty, the private affairs of every blind pensioner in the nation. Harassed inevitably by his own disability, the blind man is constantly harassed as well by endless official inquiry. He is also discouraged from earning all he can through some trade or skill, laboriously learned, lest he suffer the loss or reduction of his pension.

This system emphasizes the individual's handicap and worsens instead of minimizing it. He must constantly expose his personal circumstances and his family's, to close scrutiny. He is made to feel that he is the object of charity.

THE means test introduces an extra fear—in addition to all the others of his position, into his life. He often is afraid to attempt too much, by way of his own labor, for fear that after losing his pension his other scanty resources will disappear. In short, the means test hampers every effort to rehabilitate the blind because it destroys incentive and encourages indolence. And in the end it must cost the State far more than it saves.

The blind do not contend for a moment, however, that the State should disregard entirely the few cases of blind persons who have ample means of their own. They recognize that a line must be drawn somewhere between the many poor and the few rich men who cannot see. If, therefore, it is judged inexpedient to abolish the means test entirely, the same result can be accomplished by a simple change in the income tax law.

LET all the blind receive their pensions, like the old age pensioners over seventy years of age, without question and then, if a blind man somehow manages to earn substantial sums through work or investment, let the State recover its pension through the income tax. Not many blind people will fall into this category since few can earn a taxable income. But with this change in the law the blind will be freed from the present irritations and discouragements; will be prompted to rehabilitate themselves; to work; to produce; and thus to reduce their dependence and burden on society. The blind of Canada are asking the Government to end the present anomaly for their own benefit and for the benefit of the nation.

The Liquor Question

HIDES 'DRYS'

Thousands will feel that the deliberate misrepresentation in the methods employed (children, etc.) attempts to mislead and the downright misstatements in the publicity campaign carried on by the Greater Victoria Citizens' Association, which is sparked by zealots, is nothing short of disgraceful.

The very title of their organization purports to speak for the whole of Greater Victoria citizens, the majority of whom have no say in the matter.

These "Ministers of the Gospel," etc., would destroy our liberties and would throw out of the window both the plebiscite which truly stated the will of the people, and the subsequently acknowledged sensible findings of the Stevens Committee.

Their reference to a "clean and wholesome" city does not apply to their campaign.

Let us make no mistake as to the intentions of these narrow-minded meddling zealots. They are out for the evil days of total prohibition (which was finally revoked) and which brought on the 30 years of surreptitious drinking of hard liquor from the bottle.

R. B. ANDERSON.

Box 862.

WORD TO THE 'WETS'

In what is called "A statement of principles on the April 28 Liquor Plebiscite in Victoria" we are asked to consider ourselves pathetically unprogressive and behind the times, for not having adopted "modernization liquor laws."

It is pointed out that Victoria is the only city on the Pacific Coast where these laws are not in force.

I have just returned from a holiday where I visited a number of these cities and saw the results of these modern liquor laws.

So, disastrous have they become to the health and well-being of the country as a whole that the State of California is gravely concerned.

As a matter of fact the Liquor Law is slated for a drastic change in November of this year.

I would say to the "Wets" invest your money in something else—then you will not be so worried about extra outlets for liquor in Victoria.

DORIS BAGSHAW.

534 Broughton St.

ENGLISH PUB

In the appeal of the so-called Common Sense Liquor Law Committee they ask us to sign up: "I am in favor of Victoria taking advantage of the new B.C. Liquor Act for which the public has already voted 'Yes.' This statement is false because there has not been any vote in Victoria on liquor since the lieutenant-governor gave assent to the new B.C. Liquor Act, 1954.

Some people are concerned about teenagers delivering "dry" literature to the door. What narrow mindedness! Let's get rid of the foolish idea that more outlets mean less drinking, and stand square with God and man on this issue, and vote NO.

DAN REVEYER.

LAWYERS' PLEADINGS?

Surely the all-wet committee was ill-advised to employ two members of the legal profession to argue its case. It is a lawyer's job to plead the cause of whichever side retains his services.

"LAISSEZ FAIRE."

FRENCH COMPARISON

After reading Mr. McEwan's statement April 22 that in France one in every twenty-five was suffering from alcoholism, and his utterly heartless saying that France lost in the last war because her soldiers were drinking, I wish to state that I, a Belgian, married to a Frenchman for 25 years, have never seen him drunk, neither has his mother, nor his father, nor his younger brother. Incidentally, my husband's younger brother fought in that last war. He was badly wounded, and was decorated for his gallant way of fighting—not for drinking.

A Frenchman will drink wine with his meals, but very few drink "hard" liquor. To a Frenchman, cognac is an after-dinner drink to be sipped slowly. French cafes are clean, well kept, not like your beer parlors, where beer only and no food is served.

MME. E. A. VAUTRIN.

941 McClure Street.

REAL REASON?

One cannot but admire the tenacity with which the self-styled "Commonsense Liquor Committee" carry on their campaign for a wet Victoria. One would expect that with such an array of legal and professional supporters, backed up by the Archbishop of the Anglican Church and supported by the newspapers of the city, that this committee would produce some new and powerful arguments in support of their cause but most of their arguments are hoary with age and have been used over and over again in support of the liquor traffic.

As admitted by this imposing committee the real reason why more outlets for resale of liquor are required is to increase the sale and increase the profits of the brewers and distillers.

The really "sensible" thing to do next Wednesday is to vote NO.

W. H. DAY.

Richmond Ave.

DRY ADVERTISING

All advertising men are fully aware of the fact that one of the basic tenets of their profession is "Truth in advertising implies honesty of manufacture."

An advertisement is currently appearing which shows a section of Victoria and lists 16 places "where liquor can be consumed or purchased" in the Victoria area.

It is worthy of note that a visitor to Victoria could not purchase a drink in any one of these places.

In the name of all that is decent let us approach this subject with honesty and let us be temperate in any and all statements which are made in the heat of battle.

I write as a second generation Canadian who was born in this province and who has served his country in one of the armed forces in two wars.

D. STEWART SCOTT.

1000 Craigdarroch Road.

THE QUESTION

If I vote wet on Wednesday, what will likely happen? There will be plenty more liquor around and more sold. Beyond doubt those who are interested in the financial end of it have proven that to us within the last few days. Hence their interest in the wet vote.

With a wet vote without doubt drinking under the table will disappear. Of that I am glad. But surely we realize that with liquor so easy to get, other good laws of our country will be broken. So what do we get with a change? Just a new set of laws, broken. So, I ask you, 'do we gain?'

I am afraid that the wets have lost their arguments and that those like myself who do not care which way they vote so long as they cash their vote in favor of the best argument must vote dry.

"INTERESTED."

ANACHRONISTIC?

Is not the use of alcoholic beverages rather out of date in this modern age? Shakespeare, even in his day, deplored the fact that men put into their mouths that which stole away their brains.

We need our brains, also morals, perhaps more now than ever before. As you know, the use of alcohol weakens both. A young RCAF pilot recently displayed a very adult attitude toward drinking by the remark "I know better than to touch that stuff." Pilots do know. Would increased outlets benefit any except those who have financial interest in the liquor traffic?

Totalitarian states can dictate and are imposing restrictions on the use of alcoholic beverages "liquidating" old customs obstructing progress. Cannot we as citizens of a democracy prove ourselves capable of handling its problems by imposing restrictions on ourselves which would help to keep Canada in line with modern progress and achievement?

M. MACLENNAN.

1310 Topaz Ave.

FOR YOUTH

Dr. Ernest Hall, an eminent surgeon in Victoria a few years ago, maintained that the destructive effects of alcohol always begin at the top. Can it be that debasing effect is responsible for indifference to the fate of youngsters whose future is being created—youngsters without the price or thought of a "bottle" who might think it smart, or maybe, "fun" to have the after-dinner glass at hotel or restaurant before the auto ride?

Why shouldn't the teenagers help in their own defense?

"THANKFUL"

FROM THE SCRIPTURES

Beware ye wets. Proverbs 21:1: "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

First Corinthians 6:10: "No drunkard shall inherit the Kingdom of God." Proverbs 23:21: "The drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty." Ephesians 5:18: "Be not drunk with wine."

The word of God warns us against the drinking habit. So be warned and vote No. ye citizens of Victoria on Wednesday, April 28.

J. W. COOPER.

Bartlett Ave.

BAD EXAMPLE

In Los Angeles they have a total of 3,028 licensed establishments for the consumption of liquor on the premises. They have also a larger number of places where liquor can be purchased and carried away. Now what are some of the results of making liquor available at almost every street corner?

In Los Angeles an elected board of five supervisors with Mr. John Anson Ford as chairman, look after the social problems of the city.

In Time Magazine, Sept. 19, 1949, in a signed statement Mr. Ford says: "Nearly one half of all our arrests are for drunkenness. We have sponsored a duplicate of Yale's Alcoholic Clinic at the University of California, for three successive years, and in desperation are calling effective means of solving, or ameliorating a social and economic situation whose capacity to producing human scum and bums seems undiminished."

That was written about four years ago. Now in his April report of this year the same Mr. Ford writes, drunken driving arrests for the year, 1949: were, adults, 6,988, but for 1953 they had increased to 7,848 arrests for drunken driving. And worse still, in 1949 juvenile arrests for being drunk were 169, while in 1953 juvenile arrests for being drunk had risen to 221. Think of it, almost four more children arrested every week for being drunk! Are we prepared to copy this example?

W. G. WILSON.

777 Pemberton Rd.

PROTEST

I wish to protest strongly against any idea of using our children for canvassing on the liquor issue. Yes, sir! I am just an old bachelor who is very fond of everybody's children, but not liquor personally. It is absolutely wrong to even think of children for such a purpose.

A. SKINNER.

Garbally Road.

PERSONAL RIGHT

With reference to the forthcoming vote on the liquor question there is a point of view that I do not think has been sufficiently stressed.

Speaking personally, I could quite easily do without either beer, wine or spirits and the amount that I actually consume is very small but I do not believe that it is in any way contrary to any law or obligation either human or divine that I should be able to obtain and drink any or all of these under congenial conditions if I so desire, and I deny absolutely the right of anybody to prevent me.

I believe that it is because so many people have a similar general idea on the subject—and I am certainly including the young—that they almost feel it incumbent on them to defy regulations imposed on them by fanatics and to obtain the liquor by any means that is open to them—not because they want it so badly but because "Mr. Grundy" says that they must have it.

E. F. WATHERTON.

565 Marfield Ave.

Laminated Discussion

MY friend tells me he's been on so many panels he feels like a piece of plywood. Why does he go on them?

"Well," he explains, "there's a certain amount of flattery attached to an invitation to join a panel. The idea is that you're an important guy and can contribute something to the subject under discussion. You are an expert, see? And let's not go into definitions of experts. The modern ones aren't very complimentary."

"And then, too, there's the magic in the sound of the human voice—your own, that is."

My friend has had almost enough panels. But he'd like to be on one more—a panel on panels.

"You see," he says, "there are a lot of limitations to this paneling you don't recognize at the start. In the first place, with three or four other people also taking part, your time is restricted."

"Now, it's all very smart to say that if a person can't get across what he has to say in 10 minutes, he hasn't anything to get across. That's true, up to a point. But on a panel you're not only shooting your own line, you're trying to rebut some of the argument advanced by your fellow members. It's true enough that the story of creation was written in a few words, but those words don't include argument."

"So you start off with your own contribution, which may or may not have body to it. Then you toss around the various points already raised. But at best, you can't do much more than present a capsule."

THE SURFACE IS EVERYTHING

"That assumes that you know what you're talking about in the first place. Actually, you can't help getting that plywood feeling. You're just presenting a veneer. It's overlaid on a base of cross-grain stuff. If you've done your homework, but you have to offer a surface or you're pretty incoherent."

"The other people on the panel, when they do a job, pick out the knot-holes in the face of the piece you've put forward and the plywood begins to look pretty low grade. Also, you find that you're forced into a certain rigidity. You haven't time or opportunity to develop the flexibility you need when you discuss almost any subject. You lay down the law the way you see it, and you're expected to stand by your points.

"But that's not the only difficulty. Think of the audience. It's buying a piece of three-ply, very often because it wants to. It's getting the ready-made factory product and, if the outside sheeting looks fairly sound, it doesn't worry about what goes into the middle of the piece."

"That," says my friend with his present-day cynicism, "suits the purpose of this age. It isn't too interested in the body of a thing. All it wants is a good surface. If the appearances are right, what does it matter about the interior?"

"Panels are popular, I guess, because so many people don't want to work away at fashioning their own ideas. They'd rather have them prefabricated, so they can be slapped together easily. Why should they read a book when they can skim a condensation? Why should they develop a thought when somebody else can give them one."

"They say, and they believe it, that panels are good because they give different slants on a thing. Sure they do. Three or four or five people stand up before a crowd and sound off their points of view—if they are points of view. And just possibly one of them will hit a theme striking enough to direct a listener's mind along a different line. That's possible. Anything's possible, I guess."

ENTERTAINMENT

"Still, most of the time, I figure people who listen to panels enjoy them mainly for their entertainment value and probably for that feeling of superiority they get when somebody with whom they disagree has his ears pinned back."

"They walk out quite pleased with themselves when the opinion they don't like has taken a beating in a panel. You can almost hear them chuckling as they're leaving. That screwball didn't get very far, did he? Like I always said..."

"Of course if you have top-notchers talking, it's different. That round-table over the radio makes sense—or seems to—to me."

"And maybe there is some value in the panels you hear around here. Maybe they're not all propaganda for a certain line. Perhaps I'd think more of them if I hadn't been on so many and been so busy covering up my own ignorance."

"I guess, if I'm asked, I'll go on some more. You can't get away from it; there is some magic in the sound of the human voice."

Claxton's Trip Underlines 'Push-Button War' Emphasis

By DAVE MCINTOSH

REGINA (CP) — New approaches to strategy and weapons are receiving the increasing attention of Canada's defense planners.

One of the chief reasons for Defense Minister Claxton's western tour this week is to talk over these approaches with senior commanders.

According to present defense thinking in Canada, the age of push-button warfare is closer than most people believe. To Canada's defense chiefs, the age of conventional weapons is almost at an end. The next conventional weapons will probably be the last of their type.

For instance, the RCAF plans successors to the F86 Sabre jets and the long-range CF-100 all-weather jet interceptors. They both probably will be supersonic aircraft and the last in which air crews will play an important part.

The successor to the CF-100 Oak Bay Kiwanis will hold a "Ladies' Night" on Friday, commencing at 6 p.m. with dinner at the Chez Marcel followed by a variety show in the Oak Bay Jr. High School auditorium.

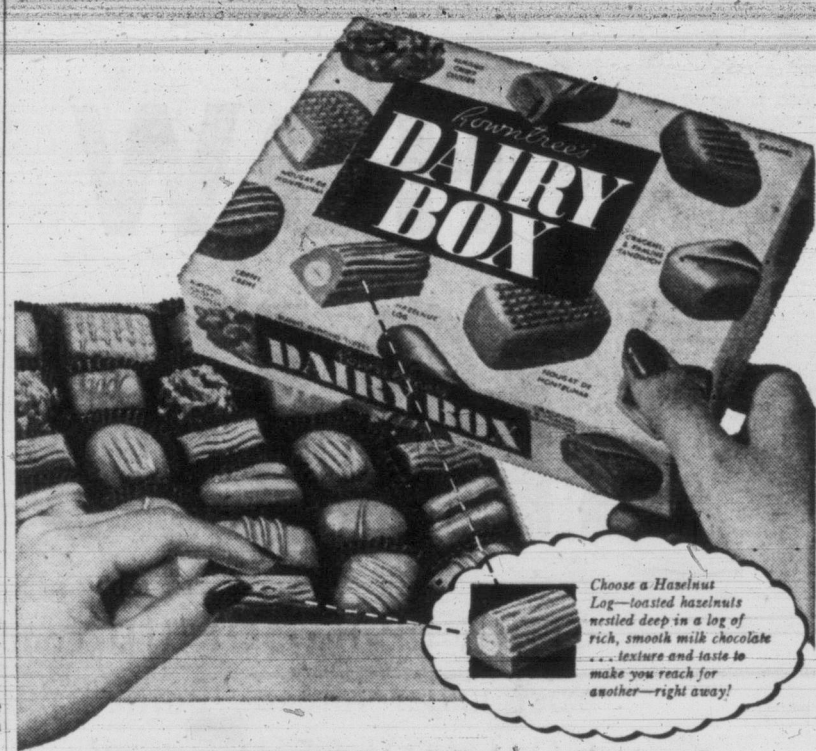

already equipped with guided missiles will be the CF-105, now on the drawing board. The successor to the Sabre probably will be a development of some other country within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

END OF FIELD GUN

In the same fashion, the conventional field gun is believed at about the end of its development. That is in view of the existence of nuclear weapons, it would not be worth the expenditure of time, skill and money to develop modest improvements in conventional weapons.

NEW YORK—Martha Raye's Arlington, Va., wedding to Eddie Begley (also known as Eddie Olsen) confirmed this column's February prediction that Martha would be a spring bride. At the time, Martha shrieked denials in all directions—said "she'd never heard of the guy, had no intentions of marrying anybody, etc.—but a story on the elopement—quoted her friend, Carl Eastman, who accompanied them on the jaunt, as revealing that "the couple had been planning to get married for several months."

If Martha wonders how the story leaked out many weeks before she was ready to admit the betrothal, she might ask her groom: he whispered it to several of his best chums, and you know some fellas just can't keep secrets!

Hardest hit by the news of the marriage was Martha's ex-husband and present manager, Nick Condos, who was buying drinks for Eddie just the night before the trip to Arlington, but was not let in on the romantic plans. Intimates who quote Martha as saying, "Nick wants to stay out in the clubs every night; I'm tired of that," say she hopes to settle down in her country home with Eddie—a goal that may require considerable adjustment on the part of Eddie, who has been known to force himself through the door of a saloon on more than one occasion.

The Ray Millands, reported close to a divorce not long ago, looked like the most contented couple in town as they dined at the Colony... Copacabana beauty June Tolley is getting the rush treatment from Lou Stoecklin, who takes her dancing at El Morocco between and after all Copa shows. Alfred Hitchcock is seeking Grace Kelly for his new movie, a thriller to be shot on the Riviera this summer with Cary Grant as the male lead.

Charlotte Rae's new song hit at the Bon Soir is called "Modest Maid" and originally was written by Marc Blitzstein for Beatrice Lillie about a decade ago. However, Lady Peel never used it because the chief constable of London banned it as too naughty—a bit of intelligence that may surprise the Bon Soir customers, who laugh (but certainly don't leer) at it. London audiences of 10 years ago must have been mighty imaginative.

Tin Pan Alley publishers are going daffy trying to anticipate the next trend in pop songs. Parodies and satires, which were the biggest moneymakers just a few months ago, now are poison to the hit parade, and the up-tempo tunes are beginning to falter, too. Maybe the moment has come for some good ballads to sneak in.

An Academy Award winning Hollywood producer is reported to have settled out of court the suit (by a lady) that could have developed some sensational copy for the gazettes... Newlyweds Andre and Susan Hakim—she's better known as Darryl Zanuck's daughter—will honeymoon in France. They zipped in from the west coast with just enough time to see a few well-wishers, then vanished to temporary Manhattan headquarters to pack and get out the passports.

One of the baseball world's most famous managers is causing comment of a peculiar kind. Every time his powerful team loses a game, his wife is seen around next day with at least one bruise, sometimes more, and always bloodshot eyes, obviously from weeping.

There's a theatrical feature yarn in Sandra Church, the beautiful 17-year-old who's touring with "Picnic" in the role originally played by Janice Rule. Sandra, whose mother is a nurse, was in school on the coast when she started studying with Queenie Smith. Her first audition, with Joshua Logan, landed her the part in the prize-winning play. Now the movies are after her.

DAY CUT FROM 2-YEAR TERM LETS MOTHER SEE CHILDREN

The B.C. Court of Appeal Monday reduced a two-year term of imprisonment by one day in order to permit a woman to serve her time in Oakalla Prison instead of penitentiary at Kingston, Ont. Only prisoners sentenced to two years and over are sent to the federal penitentiary.

Beatrice Fors of Ladysmith, convicted of false pretences, appeared in court in person and told Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan that her three children would be able to visit her if she was sent to Oakalla Prison instead of penitentiary.

Frank S. Cunliffe, Crown counsel, did not object but reminded the court that accused obtained over $5,000 from the Workmen's Compensation Board over a period of nine years. Mrs. Fors told the board that she had not married after her husband was killed, and drew compensation cheques as his widow.

Vs Even Hockey Series

8th Game Necessary In Allan Cup Semis

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — Winnipeg Maroons, who needed a single point to clinch the Western Canada Allan Cup finals here Monday night, will be looking for two when they line up in the eighth game against Pentiction V's Wednesday night.

The Pentiction club, who were supposed to be down and out, came storming back with three goals in the third period to stun the classy Winnipeg club, 3-1. That left the best-of-seven series knotted at two games each, with three games tied.

The Warwick brothers, whose names have become synonymous with Pentiction success in this hockey-mad town, saved their team from the brink of hockey oblivion as they accounted for the tying and winning goals.

Bill Warwick, taking advantage of an interference penalty to defenceman Ward Brandow, blasted in a goal at 10:34 from Jim Fairburn and Grant Warwick. Just 15 seconds later Dick Warwick struck for the winning goal from brother Bill.

INSURANCE GOAL
Jack McDonald added an insurance marker at 15:28 from Fairburn and Kevin Conway. Gary Aldcorn flipped in the Maroons' goal at 13:34 of the first.

The first game was tied 4-4, Winnipeg won the next, 3-2. Pentiction surprised next with a 7-1 victory and the fourth game ended in a 4-4 draw.

Maroons crushed Pentiction, 4-0, before the V's fought the visitors to the third 4-4 draw Saturday that left them one point away from the title. Venue of the eighth game was to be announced today by league officials.

PENTICTON 3, WINNIPEG 1
First period—1, Winnipeg, Aldcorn (10:34). No penalties.
Second period—No scoring. Penalties: Macintosh 6:23 and 8:45, B. Warwick 17:35.
Third period—2, Pentiction, B. Warwick (10:34), G. Warwick (10:34). 3-1 Pentiction. McDonald (15:28), Conway (15:28). Penalties: Brandow 9:05, B. Warwick 17:05.

City Riders Retain Honor

For the fourth year in a row, a Victoria team has won the Valvoline Trophy in the British Columbia motorcycle racing championship trials.

A three-man team from the Victoria Motorcycle Club, composed of Charlie Arnold, Wes Morhart and Les Blov, retained the trophy Sunday at Mount Douglas Park in a race against Vancouver entries.

Top individual winner was Shorty Orr of Victoria, losing only 37 points, while Vancouver's Dave Guthrie was second, dropping 39 points.

Camille Henry Named NHL Rookie-of-Year

MONTREAL (BUP)—Camille Henry, the highest player in the National Hockey League, walked off with one of its biggest awards today when the New York Rangers' "spare" forward was named the outstanding rookie of the 1954-55 season.

Only 139 pounds when he's wearing his pads, the 21-year-old youngster from Quebec City, Que., gave the Rangers their second straight Calder Memorial Trophy winner, Goalie Lorne Worsley of the Rangers won last year's rookie award, then was shipped to Vancouver Canucks.

Henry polled 99 points out of a possible 180 in the official league balloting of hockey writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

Centre Earl (Dutch) Reibel of the Detroit Red Wings finished second with 77 points, while Jean Beliveau, the Montreal Canadiens' heralded young centre, garnered 44 points to finish third.

Others who received votes were New York's Johnny Bower and Bob Chrystal, Boston's Ray Lorne Worsley of the Rangers and Frank Martin, Detroit's Bill Dineen, Montreal's Jacques Plante, and Chicago's Ike Hildebrand.

WHAT'S ONE MORE ACE?

TORONTO (CP) — Ted Davidson of Toronto believes he holds a Canadian golf record that will stand up for some time.

Ted posted his fifth hole-in-one Sunday on the 140-yard eighth hole at the suburban Weston Club in his first warm-up of the season. His first hole-in-one was made years ago and his fourth at a Toronto club in 1951.

They've become so commonplace to him that he says he can't recall the dates of the earlier ones.

Red Briefs Rock Rookies for Opener

King Lacrosse opens his court at Memorial Arena Wednesday night as another Intercity Lacrosse League season begins. Victoria Shamrock coach Red McMillan, who piloted the Irish to the Mann Cup finals last year in his freshman coaching year, will be back at the helm and will have some new faces to present to the fans. Among them will be a corps of rookies up from the minor ranks, hoping to break in with the Irish. Here McMillan talks strategy with three of the hopefuls, left to right, Al Davies, Ed Longpre and Ed Kowalyk. Rocks meet Johnny Cavallin's Vancouver Pilseners Wednesday night at 8:30.

SEEKS DISCHARGE

Martin's Cadillac Hurts Plea

FORT ORD, Calif. (AP)—Pte. Billy Martin, seeking a United States Army hardship discharge to rejoin New York Yankees, is encountering opposition from his sports-loving commanding general.

Maj. Gen. Robert McClure told a press conference Monday that he is recommending that the star second baseman's discharge request be denied.

McClure indicated he doesn't feel Martin is a hardship case.

"The draft board investigated the situation... besides, Martin came to camp driving a baby blue Cadillac. Any one with a car like that can't be broke."

But Martin, who got out of the army after five months' service in 1952 on similar grounds, told a different story.

"The 1953 world series star said money earned in past years was 'not so much, and it's all gone'."

He said that in addition to supporting his mother, sister and step-father he must pay $150 a month to his estranged wife for herself and their infant daughter.

However, returning will be veterans like Denny Huddell, one of the biggest men in the league; bulky, hard-checking Jim Kinna; pony side brothers Harry and Elmer Buchanan; defenceman Jack Byford, who played with Shamrocks against Peterborough in the Mann Cup finals last year; Ed Hamson, Alex MacKay, Jim Anderson, Jim Swanson, Bobby Marsh, Bill Stuart and Fred Aspin.

Rookies are Delmonico, Barry Pfaff, high-scoring forward with Junior Salmones last year; Dave Lincke, Ted Hunt, Dave Tait and Art Bower.

Dorothy Herbertson fired an 88 Sunday to emerge as medalist in the qualifying round of the women's club championship at Colwood Golf Club Sunday.

Runner-up to the medalist was Mrs. W. Erickson with a 91.

Buddy Boone, a ball of fire for the Aces throughout this series, broke up the game after six minutes and 48 seconds of overtime.

Ron Mayell, president of VITRA, is anxious to conduct a full-dress rehearsal for stock cars at the Shearling track Sunday afternoon, and all drivers are urged to be present for time trial and test heats, to which the public is invited.

It is estimated that a potential of from 30 to 40 stock cars and 15 or more local race cars will be in action this year.

Pils Honor Late Goalie, Meet Rocks Wednesday

There will be no No. 1 sweater on the roster of the Vancouver Pilseners' lacrosse team this season.

By tradition, the first sweater is given to the goaltender but in tribute to a great competitor, Pils have retired the sweater that was formerly worn by Jack Green.

Green, the tall, agile net-minder of the Pils in past years, was killed in Vancouver Island last year in a tragic hunting accident and his No. 1 sweater will never be worn again.

Ron Delmonico has won the battle to take over Green's job but he will not wear Green's sweater. Instead, the young goaltender, who was instrumental in giving New Westminster Salmones the Minto Cup last year, will be wearing No. 24 on the back of his sweater.

Cavallin's pesky Pils, whom the Rocks defeated in the league finals last year, will present a nucleus of last year's team and a parcel of new rookies.

Absent from the line-up will be names like Kenny Webb, Fred Whitaker, Ernie Smith and Sam Sakich, who have retired for a variety of reasons.

However, returning will be veterans like Denny Huddell, one of the biggest men in the league; bulky, hard-checking Jim Kinna; pony side brothers Harry and Elmer Buchanan; defenceman Jack Byford, who played with Shamrocks against Peterborough in the Mann Cup finals last year; Ed Hamson, Alex MacKay, Jim Anderson, Jim Swanson, Bobby Marsh, Bill Stuart and Fred Aspin.

ABC Stars May Roll Here; Decision Due Wednesday

By RON COULTER (Times Sports Writer).

SEATTLE — Eliminations for the American Bowling Congress masters' invitational tenpin tournament started here today, and by 11 p.m. tonight 32 trundlers will have qualified to join the 32 big-name seeded tenpinners in match play Wednesday.

Among the seeded bowlers is Canadian champion Bert Gassner of Toronto, who defeated Spencer Smith of Moose Jaw, Western Canada titlist, in a recent roll-off.

Tyees Assured Of Mound Aid

Thursday may be the big day as far as members of the Victoria Tyees are concerned, but to club general manager Reg Patterson, May 5 could be a far more important date on the calendar.

For the Tyees, Thursday is the Western International League opener against the Capilanos at Vancouver.

For Patterson, May 5 is the date that Portland Beavers must pare their roster to Coast League requirements.

Patterson indicated today that aid is forthcoming from the Beavers, but that the Beavers are not yet ready to declare themselves.

"We will get help," Patterson said, "and that help will be pitching."

Considered the most likely Tyee candidates from the Beavers are Bill Bottler, John Tierney and perhaps Joe Nicholas. All are right-handers.

In the meantime, the Tyees will prepare for Thursday's league opener at Vancouver by meeting Farmer Construction of the local Senior Amateur League at Athletic Park tonight.

It will be the final exhibition game of the training season for the Tyees. They have won five straight, taking three from Farmers and winning two at Courtney Sunday.

And, as would be expected, manager Don Pries will start the line-up that is likely to be more or less permanent for the year.

PRIES MAY PLAY

Shore Threatens To Move Franchise

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Shore, owner of the Syracuse team in the American Hockey league, told the league's board of governors Monday night he may be forced to move his club unless he can settle a disagreement on home dates.

Shore said he had lost "four or five" choice Saturday night dates at the Syracuse Memorial Auditorium for next season. He said he had been given alternate dates which have proved unacceptable to the league.

He added the league has told him that unless he can get as many Saturdays as in past seasons the league may be forced to find a new city.

MEET FARMERS TONIGHT

Tyees Assured Of Mound Aid

Thursday may be the big day as far as members of the Victoria Tyees are concerned, but to club general manager Reg Patterson, May 5 could be a far more important date on the calendar.

For the Tyees, Thursday is the Western International League opener against the Capilanos at Vancouver.

For Patterson, May 5 is the date that Portland Beavers must pare their roster to Coast League requirements.

Patterson indicated today that aid is forthcoming from the Beavers, but that the Beavers are not yet ready to declare themselves.

"We will get help," Patterson said, "and that help will be pitching."

Considered the most likely Tyee candidates from the Beavers are Bill Bottler, John Tierney and perhaps Joe Nicholas. All are right-handers.

In the meantime, the Tyees will prepare for Thursday's league opener at Vancouver by meeting Farmer Construction of the local Senior Amateur League at Athletic Park tonight.

It will be the final exhibition game of the training season for the Tyees. They have won five straight, taking three from Farmers and winning two at Courtney Sunday.

And, as would be expected, manager Don Pries will start the line-up that is likely to be more or less permanent for the year.

PRIES MAY PLAY
Pries himself will play first if his injured back responds to treatment, otherwise Art Seguso will fill in. Ron Jackson will play second; Eddie Lake, shortstop, and Steve Mesner, third.

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Salem of the Western International League defeated Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League 6-4 in an exhibition baseball game played in a drizzle here Monday afternoon.

All of Sacramento's runs came in the second inning on singles by Eddie Bockman, Roy Partee, Bob Dillinger and Hank Schenz; a hit batter; and an error when the Salem centrefielder dropped an outfield fly hit by Tommy Glaviano.

Take Lead In WHL Final Set

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Western Hockey League finals continue at Calgary Wednesday night with Vancouver Canucks boasting a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series and a hatful of prestige.

Unwilling to be influenced by their faithful who woefully predicted a five-game win for Calgary after the coast club lost the opener 2-0, Canucks stopped Stampeders 6-2 at the forum Monday after slapping them down 7-3 Saturday night.

Cy Rouse found the net with three Vancouver goals. Billy Dea hit for two and Carl Kaiser slaved in the other. For Calgary, Sid Finney and Art Michalak beat Lorne Worsley in the Canucks cage.

Stampeders went behind 3-0 after 20 minutes of play and trailed 4-1 going into the final where Vancouver outscored them 2-1. The last of the sell-out crowd of 5,400 fans had not been ushered to their seats when Carl Kaiser and Larry Poirer set the stage for Rouse's first goal after only 68 seconds.

Rouse scored again from Poirer, who gathered in three assists, and Jack Lencien at the 14-minute mark. Art Michalak took the fourth penalty of the period seconds later, paving the way for Dea's goal from Allan Stanley and Chuck McCullough.

Stampeders outshot Canucks 8-3 in the torrid second period. Goalie Bill Brennan made repeated forays to clear pucks ahead to his teammates.

PLAY RAGGED
Play got ragged as Vancouver checked closely to hold the pressing Stamps at bay. Finney put Calgary on the score sheet with a screened shot and Rouse raced the length of the ice to complete his hat-trick.

Rouse drove in from the blue-line with only Brennan to beat and blazed one past the Calgary goalie. It was the second time in the series Brennan had been beaten three times by an opposing forward. Doug Adam pulled it off Saturday.

The smooth-skating Poirer broke at 55 seconds of the final period and as the two defenders moved to meet him, slid the puck to Kaiser who hammered it through.

Art Michalak took aim with a shot that Worsley didn't even see at 4:32 as the agile net-minder recovered from attempts by Ray Barry and Steve Witluk.

Dea closed out the scoring with six minutes remaining as McCullough and Les Hickey, picked up the puck from a centre ice scramble and set up the play.

OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

The first time I heard the name Splake, I thought that's the noise my stomach makes when I eat a sour apple and a glass of water together.

But sound effects notwithstanding, Splake was the name originally given to a hybrid trout developed in Canada and Splake it would have been if sportsmen from Victoria to Newfoundland hadn't upped and raised a cloudburst of protest.

Poor James Ernest Stanton probably didn't realize what he was getting himself into when he crossed a lady Lake Trout (salvelinus namaycush) with a gentleman Speckled Trout (salvelinus fontinalis).

The hybridization produced a new strain of trout and anglers across the nation were mighty happy to welcome the new offspring into the sports fishing family.

Most of the initial work on the new hybrid was done at Banff, Alta., although the latest study of the strain has been moved to the east.

The new fish was summarily titled Splake, contracting Speckled and Lake to form the ghastly term. That's when fishermen got mad.

Anglers had visions of coming home and telling the little woman, "I caught some Splake." The wife would likely run to the medicine cabinet or smell hubby's breath.

And Jim Stanton, hearing how his product was being victimized, merely because of its unmusical name, began to feel as if he had sired a three-headed child.

"Splake, Schmake, with a name like that I wouldn't want to catch one," anglers all over the country were howling.

What's in a Name? . . . Plenty

The furor reached such alarming proportions that conservation authorities in Toronto felt a good thing was being ruined by having a bad name.

And so, it was decided to hold a nation-wide contest to rename this new member of the trout family.

And those in charge of the contest found out just how unpopular the name Splake was when they received close to 10,000 alternative monikers for the new fish.

It is pointed out in publicity releases that names were suggested from points as far away as Victoria.

The winning name, submitted by two contestants, is Wendigo, and the fish will be known as such from now until eternity.

Personally, I feel that this name, founded on Indian mythology, is far more befitting a fish than the term Splake, which could mean a piece of hardware or a disease.

Wendigo is an Indian term, deriving from the Algonquin language. It was used to designate spirits and particularly a bad spirit that roamed the north-land, flitting from tree to tree on feet of fire.

Wendigo, according to folk lore, lured the souls of northern trappers and woodsmen who tried to follow it, and ended up wandering through an endless after-life in torment, always following Wendigo but never overtaking him.

And as far as I am concerned, the new fish it aptly termed. I have been chasing that kind of fish, never overtaking them, for too many years.

Shawnigan Lake trolling is coming into its own with the advent of warmer weather. A fair number of trout were hauled out of the popular resort lake over the week-end—the best catches being made on the Autumn Willow Leaf troll . . . a few trout are rising for flies in the upper Cowichan River and others are being taken in Cowichan Lake, Charlie Thomas being one who has scored in the lake . . . the San Juan River is turning out some excellent fresh-run steelhead while trollers further up the island are taking trout out of Sproat Lake . . .

Western Breeders Request Change

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario racing commission and the executive of the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society will consider a request of western Canada horsemen to revive the old rule of deducting five per cent of the first purse money for breeders of Canadian-bred thoroughbreds.

The proposal was made by K. R. Darbyshire, president of the Canadian division of the Horsemen's Protective Benevolent Association and president of the British Columbia Breeders' Association, at the annual meeting of the breeders' society Monday.

Darbyshire said Ontario breeders were receiving a grant of five per cent of first-place money from the Ontario government. The plan should be abandoned because it did not cover Canadian-bred horses from outside Ontario.

Bevo Turns Pro
NEW YORK (AP)—Abe Saperstein, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters, said Monday he had signed Bevo Francis, the basketball scoring star from Rio Grande College, and Bevo's coach, Newt Oliver, to a one-year contract calling for a sum in the neighborhood of $30,000 for the pair.

Saperstein said Francis would be assigned to the Boston Whirlwinds, an independent team owned by Saperstein, and that Oliver would be his coach.

Parnell Out for Sure
BOSTON (AP)—Mel Parnell, Boston's ace left-handed pitcher whose throwing arm was fractured Saturday night, was placed on baseball's disabled list Monday.

The ailing Red Sox southpaw is to fly to his New Orleans home today and return May 5 for medical examination. He was hit on the forearm by a pitch from Maurice McDermott.

GAMES' BERTH POSSIBLE

City Boxers Enter Trials

Two, and possibly three, Victoria boxers will make the last local stab at securing spots on the B.C. British Empire Games boxing team Thursday night.

Jackie O'Neill and Lloyd Tahouney will definitely go to Vancouver Thursday for the final B.C. trial bouts and it is hoped that middleweight Bert Wilkinson will also make the trip.

From winners of these bouts will be chosen the B.C. team that will compete in the Canadian trials for the Canadian team.

In addition to the city boys, the strong Royal Canadian Navy team will send over two hopefuls, Trent Ketcheson, former Canadian amateur middleweight champ, and Dave Martin, 175-pounder.

Coach Jerry LeBlanc will handle the Navy fighters while time-tested veteran Ed Duffin will be in charge of the Victoria boys.

Al Duval, president of the Greater Victoria Boxing Association, will be a member of the selection committee in the Vancouver bouts.

FORMER GOLDEN BOY
O'Neill, who started his boxing career at St. Louis College, is a 147-pounder who can punch well with both hands. He was Island Golden Boy and welter champ in 1950 and later that year won the B.C. welterweight championship. This year he won the 147-pound title on the Yakima Golden Gloves and was named best boxer in the show.

Tahouney is also a former Island Golden Boy and will weigh in at 119 pounds. He is a product of the James Bay Club.

Others chosen were playing coach Frank Edmonds of Buffalo at defense, Gaye Stewart and Ed Slowinski of Buffalo at left and right wings and Gili Mayer of Pittsburgh as goalie.

Mathers was the only repeater from the 1952-53 team.

Braves Rely on Vets; Greco Still a Holdout

BY GIL GILMORE

KENNEWICK, Wash. (CP)—The Tri-City Braves' chances of winding up in the first division of the Western International Baseball League this season depend primarily upon getting someone who can get more than one base per hit. And often.

The community-owned club, operating without higher classification tie-ups again this year, holds the contract of the man it believes can do the job. But so far the player has been extremely stubborn about signing.

He is Dick Greco, formerly of Tacoma but now of Vancouver. He is a long ball hitter and just what the Braves need for a cleanup man.

CAN'T AGREE
But Greco, and Tri-City's new general manager Eddie Taylor, are miles apart on salary and the situation is further complicated by Greco's personal desire to play somewhere else—preferably Vancouver.

But at this date, Tri-City fans are wondering if their club is going to have a cleanup man. Last season the Braves tied for top spot in batting, were second in total hits, but were at the bottom of the league in homers, triples and doubles. This added up to leading the league in the left-on-base column and eighth.

RYAN RELEASED
CINCINNATI (AP)—The major league baseball career of Connie Ryan, dating back to 1942, apparently came to an end Monday as the Cincinnati Redlegs gave the veteran infielder his outright release.

Missing is Nick Pesut who was traded to Vancouver. Pesut's departure leaves first baseman Vic Buccola as the only player left on the club of the group that came here from Wenatchee in 1951.

The two Trans, Len and Ray, will probably provide the second base-shortstop combination although Ray, the older of the two, may play fewer games.

Terry Caroll is one prospect for third base but it is possible that Tom Marjer, a 1952 regular who missed last season because of an injured hand, may yet sign his contract. He wants more money.

FORMER TYEE
Des Charrouais, Yakima football coach Bob McGuire, Ernie Hockaday and playing manager Edo Vanni are all holdover outfielders but Bob Moniz, who was purchased from Portland recently, probably will hold one spot. Vanni isn't expected to play much and Hockaday may be converted to an infielder.

Whatever the pitching staff lacks in power is made up in numbers. Earlier this year, Tri-City had 14 hurlers

Nine-Year-Old Saves Brother

Kenny Cramb Puts Out Fire In Younger Lad's Clothing

DUNCAN—Quick thinking by nine-year-old Kenny Cramb saved the life of his younger brother Friday afternoon when the small boy's clothes caught fire and Kenny rolled him in some grass to extinguish the flames.

The accident occurred when seven-year-old Dean Cramb was playing with two other boys near his home on Charlotte Street. The boys had just made torches out of rag tied to sticks and dipped in gasoline and set fire to them. One of the blazing torches ignited Dean's trousers and he ran screaming to his home.

At the time neither of his parents were in, but Kenny was at home reading comics. Hearing his brother's cries he rushed out of the house and rolled Dean in the grass, putting out the fire which was creeping up the small boy's body.

Little Dean was taken to King's Daughters' Hospital and his left leg is now in a cast. His condition was reported by a hospital official as being "satisfactory."

Dean's father, Hank Cramb, manager of the clothing department of the T. Eaton Co. in Duncan, said: "If it had not been for Kenny's quick action, Dean would probably be dead."

Forger Draws $1,109 From Church Fund

DUNCAN—Alois Sieben, Duncan, late of Mill Bay, was sentenced to two and one-half years imprisonment here Saturday when he appeared before Lt. Col. A. C. Sutton, police magistrate, charged with entering forged cheques on the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Duncan, to the extent of $1,109.

Sieben was arrested by local RCMP Friday afternoon after he had been cashing the cheques over a period of two weeks.

RCMP evidence stated that Sieben had committed six fraudulent offenses, and Mr. Sutton sentenced him to two and one-half years on each count. Sentences will run concurrently.

A member of the Mill Bay United Church, Sieben was the co-signer to United Church building fund account at the bank, and had forged the other man's signature to obtain the money.

Mayor Wins Council Row On Cemetery

NANAIMO (BUP)—A council meeting here Monday night ended up in a loud wrangle as Mayor George Muir and Ald. Robert Fawdry clashed over the site of a proposed new cemetery.

The site has been approved by Health Minister Eric Martin, but Ald. Fawdry asked that council reconsider the proposed cemetery by-law. Site is at the corner of Wakeslah Avenue and the Island Highway.

"Many petitions have opposed the site," Ald. Fawdry said. "Council is not planning for the future by putting a cemetery so close to the civic centre."

Mayor Muir, leaving his seat so he could speak on the motion, accused Ald. Fawdry of trying to "sabotage" the cemetery by-law.

"I think it's ridiculous that the ratepayers would blackmail the council by threatening to turn down the police and firehall sites if we don't withdraw the cemetery bill," Mayor Muir said.

Ald. Fawdry's motion was defeated with the mayor voting against it.

Schoolboy Patrol Starts Operation

LANGFORD—The schoolboy safety patrol system has been introduced at the school here by the newly-formed Langford Lions Club.

In co-operation with the RCMP, the club has recruited and trained a number of boys from the senior grades to flag down motorists while fellow pupils are crossing the highway.

The schoolboy patrol has made it possible to eliminate the 15-mile-an-hour zone and thus speed up traffic when youngsters are inside.

Pipeline grade zig-zagging toward lower left hand corner of picture is nearly complete, and some of the 12-foot diameter pipe has been laid by Dominion Bridge. Line, of steel and wood stave construction, will carry water to 35,000-horsepower generator to feed BCPC system on Island. Comox Lake is seen in cleft of hills at upper left, Comox Glacier at top right.

Sooke Residential District Remains Open for Hunting

SOOKE—Despite numerous protests by residents of the area against what they call the incivility and unsportsmanlike behavior of duck hunters, the B.C. Game Commission has announced that Billings Spit will not be closed to the nimrods.

However, in an effort to curb the abuses it is understood that the commission will institute a strict patrol of the area. Billings Spit is the tongue of land which divides Sooke Harbor from Sooke Basin. In recent years it has been extensively developed as a residential district.

A hearing under the chairmanship of G. C. Stevenson of the B.C. Game Department was held recently, and opposing views were aired with considerable heat, with the duck hunters taking the stand that it was not right that they should all be penalized because of the bad manners of a few.

"There is no doubt that a nuisance is being committed at Billings Spit and that something will have to be done," Mr. Stevenson said at the conclusion of the hearing.

Residents of the Spit area are hopeful that the proposed supervision by the game department will eliminate the annoyance of having their homes and their persons showered with shot.

GEORGE S. PEARSON 74 YEARS OLD TODAY

George S. Pearson, member of the Provincial Legislature for 21 years and cabinet minister for most of that time, today is celebrating his 74th birthday at home here.

Born in England in 1880, he arrived here as a youth, and succeeded in the wholesale grocery business. He was elected to the Legislature in 1928 as a Liberal, and with the party's victory in 1933 was chosen by Premier T. D. Pattullo as minister of labor.

In later years he took the additional portfolios of provincial secretary and health and welfare. During his career he won six elections, the last in 1949.

RCMP Planning Check For Marauding Dogs

The RCMP will make a door-to-door check of the Leigh Road area, Langford, in an attempt to locate one of the dogs responsible for killing sixteen prize rabbits belonging to Harry Sanders, 5 Leigh Road.

Sanders, who has also had eight rabbits badly injured, was able to describe one of the pack of marauding canines. Twice now, the dogs have broken into his rabbit hutches, tearing away double wire screening and slatting, and pulling the animals out.

Mr. Saunders, who won the Chinchilla Cup at last year's B.C. Products Fair, had planned to enter many of his rabbits in this year's fair.

Corporal Joe Shepherd, of the Colwood RCMP detachment, has urged all dog owners in the Colwood area to have their dogs licensed.

"Some 300 dogs have been licensed recently, and almost 500 since January," he said, "but there are still hundreds of dogs running without."

People who own unlicensed dogs are liable to a fine and may possibly lose their animals. "Unlicensed dog owners are usually fined $5, and costs," said Corporal Shepherd, "and it is cheaper for them to buy a license."

Cost of dog licenses is $1 for males and $2 for females.

This statement is taken from the "Brewers' Magazine," May, 1941.

"One of the finest things that could have happened to the brewing industry was the insistence of high ranking officers to make beer available in army camps. The opportunity presented to the brewing industry by this measure is so obvious, that it is superfluous to go into detail. Here is a chance for brewers to cultivate a taste for beer in millions of young men who will eventually constitute the largest beer-consuming section of our population."

Traffic Chief Shocked by B.C. Drivers

"There are too many oxcart minds behind the wheels of supersensitive dyna-jet controlled cars today," Sgt. Brooke Douglass, traffic chief of the Victoria Police Department, told members of the Victoria GYRO Club Monday.

Speaking at the GYRO luncheon in the Empress Hotel, Sgt. Douglass lashed out at the driving habits of British Columbians.

"Until drivers," he said, "are made conscious of the rules for survival on the road, and until they learn to obey those rules, there will be no decrease in the alarming number of accidents of the road today."

"Despite the application of properly accepted methods of regulating traffic, road accidents will not be decreased one bit unless drivers begin to take a pride in being good drivers."

Quoting figures, Sgt. Douglass told the group that over 2,200 people were killed in 1950, 50,000 injured, and some 133,000 accidents racked up a total of $100,000,000 in damages.

"Six people are killed in automobile accidents in Canada every 24 hours," he said, "and in B.C. alone, property damage from such accidents amounted to $11,000,000. On a per capita basis, that is $13.25 per person in B.C., which is even more costly when one counts time lost in industry and labor."

Sgt. Douglass was accompanied by Constable Ian Duncan, who showed the GYROs a prize-winning traffic safety film, "And Then There Were Four."

LAD'S ACCORDION STOPS SCOT SHOW

Ronnie Chisholm Stars in Scottish Revue Potpourri of Highland Songs and Dances

By BILL PARKER

Victorians have a weakness for accordions! Or so it appeared at the Royal Theatre Monday night when over 800 people recalled teen-age accordionist Ronnie Chisholm for encore after encore. The show-stopping youngster at the 1954 Scottish Revue, directed by Adeline Duncan, kept his audience enthralled by his nimble-fingered playing.

It was children's night at the revue without a doubt. The younger set, some 65 of them, amazed and amused their audience with their dancing.

Making up in enthusiasm what they lacked in finesse, the bairns, and some of them were little more, performed a series of Scottish, Irish and Welsh numbers.

Among the older dancers, Pacific International Highland dancing champion Heather Duncan starred with performances of "Shean Truibhinn," "The Shamrock" and "The Cakewalk."

It was not all dancing either. Highland ballads. Mrs. Jessie Lake and "Wee Jock" Dunbar brought a nostalgic tear to many an eye with their renditions of well-known Highland ballads.

Esquimalt Approves $18,000 Expenditure On Public Works Equipment, Installation

Esquimalt council approved public works expenditures totaling approximately $18,000 Monday night. Biggest single item to be purchased is a rock crusher which will enable the municipality to prepare its own road base.

Ten quotations were studied by council before decision was reached to buy a crusher complete with a conveyor loader for sewer work equipment worth $273.

Engineer John Graeme told council that the new rock crusher would pay for itself in a maximum of three years in man hours saved and better roads produced.

Also approved was purchase of a three-ton dump truck, office furniture totaling $468 and an additional expense which the council approved was installation of a new telephone for the building-plumbing inspector and assessor W. Folcher, with an extension in the yard office.

Mr. James Bryant, chairman of public works, recommended the purchases be made.

PO 'Disreputable Employer' Harold Winch Tells Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—Harold E. Winch, outspoken CCF member for Vancouver East, said Monday the post office is becoming "the most despicable, disreputable employer in the Dominion of Canada."

"You (the government), are pulling the dirtiest, lowest stunt ever pulled by any employer in Canada," Mr. Winch said as the Commons resumed the budget debate after the Easter recess.

He said the post office, in giving employees in some centres a five-day, 40-hour week April 1, removed the night differential and provided extra overtime pay only for work beyond 48 hours a week.

The post-office was holding

Ottawa Plans No Extension Of Job Benefits

No Extra Relief For Seasonal Jobless

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg said yesterday the government has decided against extending unemployment insurance benefits.

He was asked in the Commons by George Hees (PC, Toronto, Broadview) if the government intends to extend its April 15 deadline for the payment of "supplementary" insurance benefits to seasonal unemployed.

Mr. Gregg replied that consideration was given to this action but it was decided not to take it.

Supplementary benefits were instituted by the government about three years ago, to provide additional insurance for workers out of jobs during the winter period of seasonal unemployment. Up to April 15, displaced workers can get insurance even though their normal period of collecting benefits has run out.

Later, in the budget debate Harold E. Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) criticized the cutting off of supplementary unemployment insurance benefits.

Mr. Winch was called to order for saying Postmaster-General Cote had given him the lie in saying January 15 the government had no thought of changing the night differential. He withdrew the statement at the request of the Speaker.

SPEEDER FINED

Speeds over 30 in the city brought a $15 fine to Frank L. Payne, 845 Balmoral Road, when he appeared in city police court Monday.

Trade Unionists Ask Island MPs to Press For Start Now on Big Public Works Plan

Island members of parliament have been urged to press Ottawa for an immediate start on a multi-million dollar program of dock construction from Victoria to Nanaimo to avert a big jump in unemployment.

Local officials of Pile Drivers, Bridge, Dock and Wharf Builders of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America point out that with delays and cancellations of government plans practically all of its 125 members will be out of work when jobs they are on at present are completed. At the present time about 50 per cent are not working.

JOBS HELD UP

The $1,500,000 boom defense project at Belmont has been canceled, officials said. Hanging fire at present are projects at Rocky Point, the assembly wharf at Nanaimo and ferry slips at Crofton and Vesuvius Bay, Salt Spring Island.

In letters to E.T. Fairley (Lib., Victoria), Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC, Saanich) and Colin Cameron (CCF, Nanaimo), A. Haines, president of the local union, said "we are greatly concerned over the withdrawal by the federal government of certain projects proposed in this area."

POPE WILL HOLD AUDIENCE

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican sources Monday said Pope Pius next Sunday will hold his first regular audience since he became ill in January. The Pope has appeared in the window of his Vatican apartments five times in the last six weeks to bless throngs in St. Peter's square. He has not, however, appeared personally at general or special audiences since January 24.

The Gnat and the Bull

A GNAT alighted on one of the horns of a Bull, and remained sitting there for a considerable time. When it had rested sufficiently and was about to fly away, it said to the Bull, "Do you mind if I go now?" The Bull merely raised his eyes and remarked, without interest, "It's all one to me; I didn't notice when you came, and I shan't know when you go away."

No Road Cost Vote Planned In Esquimalt

Esquimalt's recently announced road-building policy providing for a share of the cost being paid by residents living on the street being surfaced will not be rescinded.

Mr. J. E. Carey gave notice of motion at the last council meeting that due to a "flood of complaints from ratepayers" the earlier motion be rescinded.

But Reeve A. C. Wurtele quoted from procedure, by-law Monday that no discussion on the matter would be possible unless the council agreed by separate motion to reopen it.

Mr. Carey moved, but this motion was lost. The controversial ruling was made by council March 1. It implemented a plan of Reeve Wurtele's which called for residents to pay for cement curbs and gutters on any street where the municipality provided the blacktop and drainage.

But the plan would be employed only as funds for the municipality's share of the work "became available."

ASKED REFERENDUM

Mr. Carey wanted to cancel the plan and bring it before the ratepayers as a referendum in December.

The cost-sharing plan as it stands will apply throughout the municipality except for sections of Head and Lamson Streets and Admirals Road between Esquimalt Road and Colville.

Work on these was felt to be immediately necessary in order to maintain the surface for bus travel.

In other areas, owners with 60-foot lots will be faced with an approximate expense of $120 for curb and gutter, or $150 for a five-foot wide sidewalk, or $210 for the combination. Costs will be spread over a 15-year period and added to taxes, according to the plan as originally presented.

Esquimalt Court Fines 4 Drivers

Four drivers were fined for traffic offences Monday when they appeared in Esquimalt court. All were guilty of exceeding the 30-mile speed limit. They were Donald Bowman, HMCS Ontario; Frederick Hugh Gardner, Glen Lake; Alan B. Christiaens, 346 Island Highway, and Paul Pepin, 251 Cook. The fine was $15 except for Pepin, whose past record cost him an extra $5.

ESQUIMALT WANTS TO SEE CLAXTON

Reeve, Council Would Ask Defense Minister For Aid in Reconstructing Admirals Road

Reeve and council of Esquimalt will seek audience with Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defense, to present a demand for federal assistance in the reconstruction of Admirals Road.

Mr. Claxton is expected to tour defense installations in this area next week.

Mr. James Bryant broached the matter of Admirals Road at a meeting Monday night and called on Reeve W. A. C. Wurtele for a report on present negotiations with Ottawa.

"There is still no official reply," stated the reeve.

Admirals Road, a sore spot with Esquimalt for many years, was threatened with a blockade by angered councilors March 15th.

Badly in need of rebuilding, the road is used 90 per cent by heavy units of national defense traffic according to the municipality. Council charges that the federal government should undertake complete or partial responsibility.

The threatened blockade was to take effect if a meeting of Reeve Wurtele, engineer John Graeme and Ottawa officials could not be arranged to settle the matter and a wire was sent to the federal capital to this end.

Since then several letters, all indefinite, have reached the reeve and no sign of action has appeared.

The reeve said he had received promises of early attention.

Hearing that report Monday, Mr. Bryant made a motion which was passed unanimously by council that "... we ask for a meeting with the minister of national defense with reeve and council when he is in Victoria next week, to discuss the question of Admirals Road."

Mr. George Argyle added, "Maybe we could take him on a ride over Admirals during a rush hour."

New Queen Stamps Issued June 10

Newly designed one, two, three, four and six cent stamps will be issued June 10, the post office department announced today.

The stamps will bear the likeness of Queen Elizabeth, and will be in the same colors as now used.

Last time a six cent stamp was issued bearing a likeness of the sovereign was in 1898.

Advanced First Aid Course Starts in Victoria May 3

Advanced course in industrial first aid, which soon will become compulsory for first aid men of all large B.C. operations, will be held in Victoria starting May 3, W. M. Thompson, first aid supervisor for the Workmen's Compensation Board, announced Monday.

He said the reason for the current course is to "train men ahead of time, so employers will be prepared for the new compulsory order."

Mr. Thompson also said that his department has been working on the scheme for one year. "We have trained a considerable number of men, and have placed equipment in camps," he said, "and found it works very successfully."

He said men trained under the course "already have saved several lives."

Classes will be held in the St. John Ambulance Hall here from 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., Monday to Thursday, starting May 3. Information can be obtained by phoning the WCB office at G 9621.

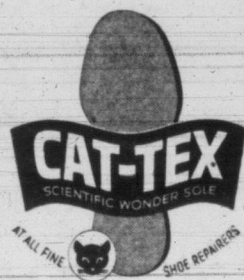

Expensive Prize For 'Hole in One'

Entrants in the annual "hole-in-one" contest to be held by the Victoria Gyro Club this summer will be competing for two 14-foot Peterborough Boats complete with outboard motors.

Dates for the annual event have not yet been announced, but Gyro officials are planning to enlarge the carnival from previous years.

Victoria Homemakers will play during the carnival for square-dance clubs in the city who will give nightly exhibitions.

All members of the club attending the contest will be issued with colorful uniforms.

FUN WITH FIGURES

By J. A. HUNTER

"Come along, Garry: make up your mind!" his mother told him, beginning to lose patience as he stood trying to decide which candies to buy. Garry sighed: it was always like this when his Mum went shopping with him. He'd only got those few coins, clutched in his hand, and it was so difficult to decide. "I've got just enough for four ounces of these nut creams," he exclaimed, "but that fudge is cheaper and I could just get 12 ounces of it." "Get both," his mother advised, "the same quantity of each, and don't waste any more time." Garry did as he was told, spending all his money on the purchase. How many ounces did he buy altogether?

Saturday's Answer: The professor lived at No. 22.

Police think youngsters are responsible for an overnight break-in at Oak Bay Golf Club. A window was broken in a building used as a pro shop and for caddy-cart storage. Nothing is believed to have been taken.

Two false statements involving a $12.90 payment for six days unemployment insurance collected by Mae Beecroft, 735 Pandora, cost her a $5 fine in city police court today.

Victoria pilots, Arthur Smith, 1212 Lyall, and Peter Paine, 3620 Quadra, who learned to fly as members of the Victoria Flying Club at Patricia Bay, left Sunday to take a six-week course in crop-dusting at Leamington, Ont. Following the course they will return to work in this province.

Police reported no new developments today in the search for three safecrackers who were foiled Sunday in an attempt to blow the door from a wall safe at the Royal Theatre. The door buckled but held fast and the culprits were served feeling by a YWCA resident who was awakened by the blast. Entry had been made by using a stolen ladder to reach an outside balcony and jimmy a fire door.

Highland Sailors

An Edinburgh Scot and his family attracted attention at every point the Pacific Northwest touched at on the trip from the U.K. Mr. and Mrs. Hamish H. Lawrie, and daughter, Sheena, who celebrated her fourth birthday aboard, proudly wore their colorful kilts. They will visit brother of Mr. Hamish, R. A. Hamish, of 2625 Lansdowne. (Times Photo.)

Monte and 'Favorite Wife' Part of 'Cargo'

Times' columnist Monte Roberts took time from "Between Times" to suggest the name "Pacific Northwest" for the sleek-hulled new freighter, Furness awarded Monte and his "favorite wife," Cy, above, with Capt. F. H. Perry, who has been on four maiden voyages with Furness ships, a trip from Los Angeles to Victoria.

8 A.M. Wednesday Phone 'Zero Hour'

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black will throw a switch Wednesday morning to complete the B.C. Telephone Company's $2,000,000 changeover from manual to dial phones in Alberni, Colquitz and Belmont exchanges.

Mr. Black will "pull the plug" at 8 a.m., and thousands of telephone subscribers in the three districts will start using their new dial phones.

The A, B and C circuits will become a part of the Victoria free-calling system, with a maximum of four parties on each line. However, subscribers' phones will only ring when their number is called.

A telephone company spokesman said today it is hoped that four-party liners in the city also will eventually be relieved of having to listen to another party's ring as well as their own.

NEW NUMBERS As soon as the switch is thrown, all telephones in the enlarged Victoria system will have all-digit numbers. Letter prefixes will be dropped. Company officials advise all phone users to consult their new directories before making calls, to avoid confusion and wrong numbers.

Victoria phone users will switch from a letter to a digit. Beacon numbers will start with

COLWOOD RABBIT-KILLER EXECUTED AT CRIME SCENE

A mongrel dog suspected of killing several prize rabbits in the Colwood area was caught in the act today and destroyed by an RCMP officer.

Police said they were called to the property of A. H. Pullinger, Brook Road breeder, where they found a dog in the rabbit hutch. Four rabbits had been freshly killed and the dog was worrying two more when police bullets ended its rampage.

The dog answered the description of one which has been preying on domestic rabbits for the past week.

Cpl. J. Shepherd of the Colwood detachment said investigation is under way to ascertain ownership of the dog and prosecution will follow.

The owner will be liable for heavy damages if it can be proved the dead dog is the one which killed some prize-winning animals recently. (See earlier story, page 10).

Prosecution would be under the Sheep Protection Act which forbids dogs in certain rural areas to run loose between sunset and sunrise, police said.

TODAY'S GARDEN HINT

Frequent Watering Needed for New Plantings

The winds of spring are very drying, a fact which we often overlook because they are so cool.

These cool, drying winds can be damaging to newly-planted shrubs, trees or perennials. The moisture in the leaves is evaporated by the rapid passage of air over the surface of the plant, and if this cannot be replenished from the roots, wilting takes place.

To prevent wilting, or at least reduce it to the shortest possible period, there are several precautions we may take.

When planting, dig the hole large enough to accommodate the roots without cramping. Break up the soil in the hole and mix with straight compost, or compost and coarse sand, according to the plant's needs. Place the roots in position, then partially fill with soil mixture, washing it among the roots with water. Fill in with remaining soil.

The following day, water the plant again, and spread a couple of inches of compost around it, particularly in the case of trees and shrubs.

Throughout spring and

Appeal Court Gives New Trial On Delinquency

New Ruling Affects 'Borderline' Cases

A charge of contributing towards juvenile delinquency no longer applies to a person who honestly believes girls to be over the age of 18 years of age.

This was a ruling made by the B.C. Court of Appeal today in the case of two soldiers, Lawrence Raymond Angles and Charles Rees, who appealed a conviction of contributing towards juvenile delinquency in Vancouver. The court allowed the appeal and ordered the case be referred back to the trial judge, Mr. Justice H. S. Wood.

In lower court, the trial judge ruled that the soldiers' excuse that they did not know the girls to be under age was no defense. The mere fact that the girls were under age made the men guilty under the Juvenile Act.

This ruling has been followed by the courts in the past.

The two soldiers in their appeal argued that the two girls told them they were over 18 years of age and that they looked much older than they were.

Oak Bay Kiwanis Vaudeville Show On Friday Night

A fast-moving show to please all the family is the format of Vodvil Varieties to be presented Friday evening in the auditorium of the Oak Bay Junior High School.

Sponsor is the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club, whose charities will benefit from the proceeds. For western music fans the Hometowners, who have received word they will soon be featured on the CBC network, will be presented, while more serious music will be offered by Jock Dunbar, prize winner last year on the Singing Stars of Tomorrow show.

Betts and Her Buddies, the quartette that recently won an award in Vancouver, will furnish close harmony and barbershop singing, while comedy will be featured by Rolfe Walsh, impersonator of Jogi Jorgensen.

The famous Tippet sisters, Marie and Diane, will present acrobatic numbers, and dancing highlights will be toe-tapper Valerie Parkin and Scottish Ronnie Mairs. Al Smith will be the accompanist and Kiwanis Fred Usher master of ceremonies.

Tickets are on sale at Fletcher's music store.

'Junior Citizen' Decision May 6

Winner of Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce "Junior Citizen" award will be announced at the Family-Night of the B.C. Products Fair, May 6 at Memorial Arena.

The contest, which closed Sunday, drew 28 entrants. Judges will be Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich, G. H. Wheaton, president of the senior chamber, and Tom Taylor.

Inst. Commander C. H. Little, originally proposed as one of the judges, withdrew when it was announced that his son was an entrant.

International CD Parley Set Here

FARM MINISTER KIERNAN... he knows how.

PLOWING AHEAD

B.C. Minister May Accept Challenge

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan said today he may accept the challenge of Manitoba Agriculture Minister Robertson to a plowing match at Portage la Prairie, Man., "if I have the time."

Mr. Robertson issued his challenge to all agriculture ministers of the western provinces. To date only Agriculture Minister Halmrast of Alberta has accepted.

The event is scheduled for June 16.

Mr. Kiernan, observers here believe, would stand an excellent chance of winning the event.

Not only was he farm-raised, but he sold farm implements in Alberta for several years, and has a thorough knowledge of how tractors, plows and such operate.

"I'm not the world's worst plowman," maybe the second worst," he says modestly.

Mr. Kiernan last sat astride a tractor a couple of years ago, "but I wasn't plowing then, I was disking."

He pointed out it was not so much a question of ability, plow-wise, but of the time which would have to be taken from duties to participate in the match. He is already slated to attend a conference of western agriculture ministers and deputies next month in Regina.

Plowing competitions among the non-landed gentry have been popularized the last few years by seasonal performances between Ottawa's Mayor Charlotte Whitton and Toronto Mayor Allan Lamport.

Mr. Lamport has been a consistent winner.

New Work Starts On Island Highway

Emil Anderson Construction Co. workers have moved heavy equipment into position on the new section of the Island Highway outlet on Millstream Road.

Drilling and blasting is being carried out by a crew of 95 men, and the number is expected to double shortly when more equipment arrives from Vancouver.

Crashed Car Overturns, Woman Passenger Hurt

Passenger in car which overturned after a collision at Belleville and Douglas early today, Mrs. Mary Rosemus, 37, 3522 Wishart Road, was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital for observation.

She suffered a bruised forehead and left leg.

The car in which she was riding, driven by Edward John Wishart, RR 1, Victoria, crashed with one driven by Henry Foster, 767 Oliver. The Wishart car turned over and damage was said to be heavy to both vehicles.

After all danger of night frosts is passed, spraying the foliage with water in the late evenings of very warm or windy days will aid in replacing moisture. Each year valuable plants are lost through insufficient water at the roots.

U.S.-Canadian Northwest Directors Meet in May

Officials from eight states and four U.S.A. Pacific territories comprising the Far Western Association of Civil Defense Directors will meet in Victoria May 10 and 11 for a conference at the Empress Hotel.

Also to take part in the conference will be representatives of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. The three provinces are associate members of the American organization.

CD officials here estimate 60 will attend the semi-annual parley to discuss CD matters.

30 Experts in CD Added to City Corps

Victoria's civil defense target area now has 100 men and women fully trained to play a vital role in any civil defense disaster.

This was revealed Monday night when a group of 30, after training religiously weekly since the start of January, received their qualifying certificates as warden-instructors from L. G. Hatcher, CD director in this area.

The director said the 100 would be the core he would rely upon should a disaster strike this area.

G. A. McCarter of the provincial CD headquarters, spoke briefly to the graduates.

He said that civil defense officials have not for a moment thought Hiroshima A-bomb was the last.

"We've always had in mind that even more powerful weapons would spring up and for the last two years our planning has had this in mind," he said.

Weather Blamed For 10% Drop In Tourist Total

B.C.'s tourist influx showed a slump for the first three months this year compared with the 1953 figure, office of the minister of trade and industry revealed today.

The province registered 31,580 U.S. cars crossing border points up to March 31, a decline of 3,165 cars compared with last year. The figure, however, compared favorably with the 29,466 cars admitted for the same period in 1952.

The decline was blamed on the weather, with tourists waiting for warmer temperatures before visiting B.C.

During March, 12,471 U.S. cars entered the province, down from 13,662 cars in March of 1953.

Anacortes Ferry Run Resumed From Sidney

Washington State Ferries resumed service between Sidney and Anacortes on Monday.

Mv. Kilkittat left Sidney at 1:20 p.m. PST Monday, calling at Friday Harbor, Orcas Island, Shaw Island, Lopez Island, and finally at Anacortes.

The ferry will maintain a one-trip-per-day service until May 27 when two trips will be made each day. From June 19 until September 6, the ferry will make three daily round trips during the week, and two runs on Sunday.

Mv. Kilkittat has a capacity for 80 cars and 600 passengers.

New Job

Miss Margaret Clay, former chief librarian at the Victoria Public Library who retired last year, has been appointed for a three-year term to the B.C. Public Library Commission, a government order-in-council revealed today. Cecil Hacker of Abbotsford was reappointed chairman.

"But the principles of civil defense remain immutable and that is why we must continue to train people in self-help, mutual aid and mobile support," Mr. McCarter said.

Drug Possession Sentence Cut By One Year

John Bing Wong of Vancouver won a reduction of one year in a five-year sentence for illegal possession of narcotics in his appeal before the B.C. Court of Appeal Monday.

In reducing the sentence, the court made it clear that it was not departing from its policy of dealing severely with drug distributors, peddlers and users of dope. Wong apparently played a minor role in a drug case.

The court at the same time squashed the conviction of William Richard Emery of Vancouver for illegal possession of narcotics. It was pointed out by the court that police did not find Emery in possession of the drugs, which were discovered on the person of his wife.

DIME SHOWER TOTAL $7,693

Shower of Dimes total, now $7,693, contains $1.50 raised by an Oak Bay impressario, Sandra MacDonald, 1587 Clive Drive.

The money represents net profits from a variety show she staged during the holiday, complete with plays, dances, and program credits.

The current campaign, conducted by the Solarium Junior League, is to benefit Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Fall From Scaffold Injures City Workman

A possible broken hip was suffered by Hilding Rodstrom, 1260 Tattersall, today when he fell eight feet from a scaffold at a house under construction on Queenswood. He is employed by building contractor E. Pasp. The injured man was to be X-rayed at Jubilee Hospital this afternoon.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Will you tell a few of us in the ward here (Duncan Hospital) if Major Bowes of the U.S. radio show, the "Amateur," was ever convicted as a German spy in the last war and just what happened to him?—G.M.

A.—No biography available to The Times even hints that Edward Bowes, who died a few years ago, ever faced a jury on any criminal charge. He was born in San Francisco in 1876 and spent all his life in the U.S., except for tours. His popularity at one time or another made him honorary mayor of 67 cities in the U.S., honorary fire chief of 57, honorary police chief of 51 and gave him other honorary memberships too numerous to list here. His "Amateur Hour" show was seen in the Capitol Theatre here on a dozen occasions about 50 years ago. Frank Sinatra, then breaking into the entertainment field, sang in a quartette on one of the visits.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

This China English Bobby Holds Your Bobby Pins . . .

By PENNY SAVER

A china "Bobby" to hold your bobby pins . . . how appropriate!

A blue-coated English bobby, complete with his night stick, would perk up your dressing table no end, for he is, without a doubt, the craziest bobby ever! 'Twas love at first sight with me.

Take off his hat and put your bobby pins inside . . . $2.25. Oddly enough, he's made in California.

I saw the bobby-pin holder in an intriguing import shop yesterday, and I'm convinced that you'd like to know more about it, for it has just recently opened and is receiving new stock frequently.

From Sweden is a shiny brass holder for fireplace matches. You hang it beside the fireplace. Don't misunderstand me, the holder is full of the foot-long fireplace matches and sells complete for $4.95. When you want to refill the holder you'll be able to buy the boxes of matches, although they aren't in stock just yet. You can buy dainty little boxes of Swedish safety matches for 10 cents, though. They're ideal for a woman's purse.

I loved the Swedish lily candlesticks, too. Two graceful brass "petals" part to hold the candle. Then for variety, there's a small glass vase to hold in place of the candle and serve as a bud vase. Price per candlestick is $4.95.

The Swedish frosted crystal candlesticks are made in the style of the old-fashioned gas lamp. The frosted "chimney" is dotted with stars of clear glass, so that as the candle flickers the stars sparkle . . . $5.50 each.

Candles which unfold into tiers of leaves as they burn, rather than dripping are worthwhile. In many colors, sizes and shapes, they are priced from $1.25.

Church, Saturday evening. A three-tier wedding cake became the bride of William flanked by white tapers and Robert Bayliss, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bayliss, 330 Richmond Avenue.

Daffodils formed a spring-like setting for the ceremony performed by Canon George Biddle. Organ music was played by Frederick Chubb.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a gown fashioned with lace bodice featuring Peter Pan collar and lily-point sleeves and floor-touching skirt of illusion net over crisp taffeta. Her lace-veiled billowed from a coronet of lily-of-the-valley, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Strapless gowns of illusion net with matching stoles were chosen by her attendants, Mrs. J. C. Murray as matron of honor in orchid, and Miss Diane Kenyon and Miss Joan Bayliss as bridesmaids, in daffodil yellow and Nile green respectively. Their colonial bouquets were of daffodils and narcissi.

John C. Murray was best man, while George Giles and Don Clyde ushered.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I had a dream the other night and woke up laughing. It wasn't because I had inherited a million dollars in the dream or because I had turned into a beauty or had found that I was 20 years younger than I am. I suddenly found myself in a world in which spinach had more calories than cup cakes, fried shrimp less calorie count than plain shrimp, and Hollandaise sauce only five calories to the table-spoonful!

I think I write sympathetically about overweight women because I have to battle extra pounds constantly. I have a fine appetite, good assimilation (too good) and the taste of a gourmet—and write "Why Grow Old?" heaven help me!

Readers often write me or tell me that they eat, as a habit, much less than my reducing diets give them. I wonder to myself, much less of what?

So, I am with you! I know how you feel, but it is worth the effort! It is worth it in lack of self-consciousness, in greater vitality, in that sleek young feeling we get when the poundage is correct.

I only offer my nine-day reducing diet, which gives you a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days once a year. Here are the menus for tomorrow.

Extensive Prize List For Music Festival

By AUDREY, S.T.D. JOHNSON the Victoria Badminton Hall on Amphion Street. Mrs. Peggy MacFarlane will adjudicate. ### New Subdivisions For Esquimalt To Be Investigated

Possibility of opening new subdivisions on Greenwood, Hatfield and Lampson Place in Esquimalt will be discussed by council at its next regular meeting May 10.

A report on the matter will be provided by the Lands Committee it was decided following lengthy discussion Monday night.

"People are waiting to grab every lot we can open," said C. R. Gillemud. But Reeve A. C. Wurtele explained that the money to build roads, sewers and drainage was not available.

He said that when council had discussed the Greenwood area previously it had been with the idea of using money held in the reverted property fund. Since then he said the provincial government had denied permission for these monies to be used for that purpose.

He thought that the matter was stalemate, as policy has been not to sell lots without services and the money earned from their sale would be needed to provide services.

The whole matter will be reviewed at the next meeting.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead. Active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order, helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 54

The list of scholarships and awards is also more impressive than ever before. Cash total value of bursaries is approximately $1,200, including the new J. F. K. English scholarship of $100 offered by the Greater Victoria Musical Festival Association, in recognition of Mr. English's work in assisting to revive the musical festival after a lapse of 11 years.

ALBION BELMONT COLQUITZ Telephones GO DIAL

Wednesday, April 28, 8 a.m.

All Albion, Belmont and Colquitz telephones will be converted to dial operation at 8 a.m., Wednesday of this week (April 28). At that time all numbers in these three districts will be changed to five numerals with no exchange name letters. At the time of the cut-over, the Victoria exchange names, Beacon, Empire and Garden will be replaced by the numbers 2, 3 and 4, respectively.

To ensure a smooth conversion, all Greater Victoria subscribers are asked to read and to remember the following points:

1. Consult your new directory before calling.
2. Free calling will go into effect between Victoria, Albion, Belmont and Colquitz and between the latter three districts themselves. Albion, Belmont and Colquitz will commence to pay the same rates as Victoria.
3. All Albion, Belmont and Colquitz numbers will be changed. Instead of an exchange name prefix, each will begin with a numeral prefix, followed by four digits. The prefix for Albion will be 7, for Belmont, 8, and for Colquitz, 9. For example, typical telephone numbers might be:

7-1234

8-2345

9-3456

4. All exchange name prefixes in Victoria will be replaced by single numeral prefixes. Beacon will change to 2, Empire to 3 and Garden to 4. Typical Victoria telephone numbers might be:

Beacon-4567 changed to 2-4567

Empire-5678 changed to 3-5678

Garden-6789 changed to 4-6789

5. It will not be necessary to dial an operator on calls between Victoria, Albion, Belmont or Colquitz. Each subscriber will dial numbers himself anywhere within the free calling area.

6. There will be a maximum of four subscribers on each party line.

7. There will be no party line letters at the end of numbers for party line telephones.

8. Subscribers wishing to call other telephones on their own party lines should refer to the instruction card left with each subscriber by a telephone man.

9. As the number "5" will not be in use as a numeral prefix, subscribers dialing this number erroneously will hear a rising and falling buzzing tone. This is called "The No Such Number Tone" and indicates that the caller should check the number in a directory and dial again.

10. In Albion, Belmont and Colquitz, subscribers are asked not to touch their old telephone sets after the cut-over. Use of old telephone sets may interfere with incoming calls. Parents, particularly, are asked to co-operate by preventing children from tampering with the old sets.

St. John's AYPA Players Please Capacity Audience

"Love Conquers All" was the theme Monday night at St. John's Parish Hall when the church's AYPA offered a commendable production of "Whatsoever Ye Sow."

The play revolved around the ruthlessness of a money-grasping prince, who finally lost his sight through the anger of one of his debtors. When his sight was restored, by a miracle, the prince saw things differently and perceived the true meaning of love.

Despite a rather slow start the players managed to bring the play to a good climax.

Excellent as the prince was Dick Pugh. Gordon Whitehead gave a fine performance as Jude, the Samaritan. Others in the cast were Roy Macdonald, Ken Noel, Beth Williams, Robbie Hayton, Joan Genge, Beverly Noel, Jennifer Robbins, Sheila Martin and Bruce Aylard.

The costumes were by Mrs. S. C. Hawkins. Director was S. C. Hawkins.

Intermission music was supplied by organist Mrs. Kenneth M. King and singer Mrs. Alan Paver.

Modern Whimsy on Witchcraft Versatile Totem's Newest Hit

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

One of the most important attributes of the repertory company is versatility and there is no doubt that Totem Theatre scores in this respect.

Having seen the convincing way they handled the realistic and thought-provoking drama, "Black Chiffon," one is bound to be impressed with their rapid swing into the realm of whimsy and fairy-tale magic that is the delightful substance of "Bell, Book and Candle."

John Van Druten's play about modern witchcraft is as enchanting for the audience as "Gillian Holroyd's" bewitching ways are for "Shepherd Henderson," the publisher who lives in the flat upstairs.

Turning from her moving portrayal of the psychologically disturbed mother in "Black Chiffon," Rosemary Malkin becomes a lovely, seductive witch. Her change of pace and personality from the heartlessness of the sorceress in the first half to the warmth and vulnerability of a human being in love at the end is an accomplished piece of acting.

Jack Droy, I have always found a clever and extremely valuable character actor and he has not been more effective at any time than in the amusing role of the author of books on black magic; especially, in his case also, when his interpretation is contrasted with that of the stilted doctor in last week's production.

Sam Payne is back, looking younger and more debonair than ever after his submersion in roles of middle-aged surliness.

His performance opposite Miss Malkin, from start to finish, is easy, natural and convincing, and my only criticism of both is that they played with too much restraint during the early scenes, making the pace a little flat and uncertain.

LIVELY PORTRAITS

Kitty Dutcher and Thor Arngim as Gillian's Aunt Queenie and brother Nicky, both dabblers in the black arts, present lively well acted portraits of two unique characters.

And then of course, there is Pyewacket, Gillian's familiar, a Siamese cat who is completely at home and self-confident in his stage debut!

For anyone who cares anything for the theatre, this production is an absolute "must." For most people it should prove first-rate entertainment for it is one of the most unusual and intriguing of the newer plays.

Original and attractive scenery is designed by Charles Allen, chief criticism here—one strong white lamp glared in my eyes all evening.

Costuming was effective and highly appropriate, particularly the graceful red gown worn by Miss Malkin in the first scene.

50-VOICE OREGON YOUTH CHOIR WINS PRAISE OF PACKED HOUSE

A choir of 50 mixed voices from several Portland, Ore., churches won applause from a crowd that filled the Glad Tidings Tabernacle, North Park Street, Monday night.

Following a program of spirituals, the choir closed the evening with "The Lord's Prayer."

Also participating in the program was the band of the Salvation Army.

Portland's Dr. Frank Phillips told the audience about highlights of a recent trip around the world.

Saanich Seeks Site For Proposed New Municipal Hall

Saanich Council will ask the Regional Planning Board to assist in finding a suitable location for a proposed $350,000 new municipal hall.

The council Monday felt that the proposed hall should be erected in a central location in the municipality with provisions for future expansions. One of the sites suggested is the municipal yard at Douglas and Carey Streets.

The new hall will be built next year if ratepayers in December approve a money-by-law for its construction. The present hall at Royal Oak lacks sufficient office space.

Meanwhile, Whittaker and Wagg, 635 Fort Street, architects, have been asked by the council to draw a sketch of the proposed hall.

Wootten Wants Saanich Within One School Area

A request that Saanich be placed within one school district instead of divided between School District 61 and 63, was made by C. Roy Wootten at a council meeting Monday.

"Saanich should have its own school district," he said, "or we should be incorporated into one of the two school districts."

Mr. Wootten described the present system as confusing and unfair for some ratepayers.

Mr. S. W. Brook supported Mr. Wootten and suggested that a committee be appointed to look into the matter immediately.

Reeve Joseph Casey said, however, he saw no need for a committee but felt that the matter should be explored. "Let's go

'LOVE' AND A FACE FULL OF MASHED POTATOES

1,800 'Suckers' Wiggle In Frenzy for 'Fun' Prizes

Eighteen hundred people—most of them eager to subject themselves to insult, ridicule and physical hardship for the sake of a prize, and a handful of more timid souls content merely to watch—gave Roy Ward Dickson's 1954 "Fun Parade" a rousing welcome at Memorial Arena Monday.

That the emcee addressed his audience as "suckers," singled out individuals as "fatty," "baldy," and "that silly-looking guy," or made jokes about quiet Victoria and B.C.'s taxes didn't faze them a bit.

For two hours, he had men wriggling through tight girdles; girls in bathing suits getting dunked with water; boys rolling around in cardboard boxes, women squirting one another with soda water, and large ladies dressed in red rompers juggling large balls on cardtables.

Culmination of the evening came as two young people, who professed to be in love, became "engaged" after the girl, 19-year-old Eleanor Straith, of 2760 Burdick, smeared the face of her 21-year-old suitor, Nelson Crisp, of 465 Cadboro Bay Road, with mashed potato.

To "solemnize" the event, Dickson gave Miss Straith a certified diamond ring, and Mr. Crisp, a scrip for a new suit.

BIG WINNER
Big winner of the night was Mrs. Isabel Dempster, of 3341 Aldridge, who took home a console TV set as the "gag bag" prize winner.

Sick Seaman Rushed Here

Rushed to Victoria by a B.C. Pilot's boat Monday afternoon, Robert W. Prince, seaman on the Oregon Star, was reported in good condition today following an emergency operation for acute appendicitis at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The English seaman was suddenly struck by abdominal pains while his ship was tied up at the Williams Head quarantine station. A pilot's boat brought Prince over eight miles of choppy waters to the pilotage wharf, Dallas Road, where a waiting taxi conveyed him to hospital.

Nearly everyone took a bag, chockful of household articles and junk from their basements. The idea was to be able to produce from the bag whatever was requested.

Five were in the race when Dickson called for a sprig of pussywillow; John Barnes, 1012 McKenzie Avenue; Mrs. Evelyn Campbell, of Happy Valley Road; Mrs. Lillian Gallie, of 1959 Bouchier; Miss Arlene Reynolds, 029 Burdett, and Mrs. Dempster.

TWO-WAY ISSUE

The contest resolved itself into a two-way issue between Mrs. Dempster and Miss Reynolds, when both were able to find in their rummage bags a piggy bank. Mrs. Dempster won when he asked for a set of nut crackers.

Most popular prize winner was eight-year-old Sadie Montgomery, of 2003 Cameron, who won a washing machine in a straight draw.

NO QUEBEC HALL AVAILABLE FOR RUSSIAN CONCERT STARS

WINNIPEG (C.P.)—A spokesman for the Soviet concert artists touring Canada said Monday night the group has cancelled performances planned for Quebec "because of what Duplessis might do."

John Boyd of Toronto, Canadian manager of the tour and interpreter for the artists, said in an interview: "We had May 3 and 4 allotted for Quebec but the music people in that province could not rent an auditorium for us because of Premier Duplessis. The owners of the various halls are afraid to rent their halls."

Indo-China Peace Talks Reported Near

Leaders Favor Talks on Truce;
Parley May Be Called at Geneva

GENEVA (UP)—The Western Allies and Russia were reported tonight to be nearing agreement on an early Indo-Chinese peace conference. Informed Western officials said talks aimed at ending the long and bloody war in Southeast Asia may begin by next week.

Cleared

Winner in a court fight over custody of her two "neglected" children, actress Rita Hayworth, above, met with ex-husband Prince Aly Khan today in New York to hammer out a financial settlement for their daughter, Rita. Hayworth, 34, and Prince Aly Khan, 32, are the parents of Rita, 9, daughter of Rita's second husband, movie actor Orson Welles. Court informed Rita she could keep custody of the children after she promised in a two-hour conference to send Rebecca to school and not take either child out of New York State for three months.

France has been pressing urgently for a formula to end the Indo-Chinese fighting before the Geneva conference becomes bogged down in wordy arguments over a Korean peace.

French delegates conferred with both Soviet and Western delegations today in an attempt to get first priority for the Indo-China issue. Originally it was not to have been discussed until the Korean question was disposed of.

Indications mounted that France, the United States and Britain might be willing, in hastily arranged Indo-China talks, to agree to partition of the war-torn peninsula as a last resort to end the eight-year-old war.

France was known to be eager to start work on some formula for ending the fighting before the French military situation declines further.

DID NOT COME UP

As originally arranged, a permanent solution for divided Korea was to have been discussed before the problem of Indo-China was considered.

French sources said the question of a cease-fire in Indo-China did not come up at the Bidault-Molotov meeting.

However, speculation about the possibility was rife on both sides.

CCF Drops Activity In Vancouver Politics

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The CCF party today withdrew from Vancouver civic politics but urged its members to continue an "active interest" in civic affairs.

"The CCF will not be running candidates in the Vancouver civic elections," the statement said.

Sultans and Sheiks Pay Homage to Queen

ADEN (CP)—Colorfully turbaned Arabs, sultans and sheiks of Britain's Aden protectorate pledged their loyalty today before the Queen.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at this Indian Ocean seaport colony early today aboard the Royal liner Gothlic on the homeward stretch of their world circling tour which began last November. The Queen, dressed in a lemon-yellow silk gown, held an umbrella as protection from the sun as she and the duke rode in an open car to a reviewing stand placed in front of a statue of Queen Victoria.

A camel corps and gaily uniformed Aden Bedouin troopers marched past to pay their respects.

"We remain ever loyal to Your Majesty and very sensitive to the great honor we have received by Your Majesty's presence among us today," ran the address of loyalty read by two senior sultans on behalf of nearly 20 rulers of the protectorate.

QUEEN THINNER

The Queen appeared much thinner than at the start of the tour, but looked cool despite the 90-degree heat.

Secreds Would Flood Canada With Money

OTTAWA (CP)—The Alberta Social Credit government proposed today that Canada put into circulation extra hundreds of millions of dollars which the federal government would borrow without interest from the Bank of Canada.

It proposed also that the central bank lend money fairly freely to chartered banks to allow maintenance of a high level of cash reserves and to boost the circulation of money in the country.

These and other proposals were made before the Commons banking committee by Lucien Maynard, Alberta's attorney-general.

The theme of Mr. Maynard's 120-page brief was that only by vastly increasing the country's money supply could consumers buy up all surplus production, thus encouraging advancement in the country's economy.

Paratroopers Hit Fort

Hitting the few square yards left to the garrison French paratroopers reach Dien Bien Phu, the fortress that has withstood wave after wave of attacks by Communist troops in Indo-China. Today the fort was being subjected to a new Red assault as the rebels attempted to seize isolated "Isabella" fortress which guards besieged Dien Bien Phu from the south. The new assault began under cover of heavy artillery fire. French defenders took heart from violent isolated storms signalling the approaching monsoon season. The first American casualty of the vital airlift was announced today. Paul Holden, 32, of Greenleaf, Kans., chief pilot of the Civil Transport Airline, suffered severe wounds in the thigh and arm from Red anti-aircraft fire while dropping supplies to the fortress.

Mrs. Brown Case To Jury Today

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—The case of 24-year-old Mrs. Alberta Brown, charged with slaying a telegraph lineman, is expected to go to a jury in Assize Court late today.

Mrs. Brown was charged with murder following the shooting of William Zahar, also known as Ollie Johnson, at her home last Dec. 12.

The shooting occurred at the Brown home on Turner Road, three miles west of Mission. The attractive blonde mother of three children will not be called to the stand, but defense attorney Thomas Dohm said he would call her husband to testify.

Mrs. Brown in a statement to police said she fired a shot through the door of her house when Zahar tried to force his way in at midnight.

She told police she first met Zahar early in December when he came to her house with "a long story about her husband at Kemano" and another woman. Mr. Dohm said he would call Mr. Brown to the stand to show that Zahar had told Mrs. Brown a "cock-and-bull" story of his friendship at Kemano.

'No Commitments' Says Churchill

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today Britain will make no commitments on military action in Indo-China in advance of the results of the Geneva conference.

"We have not entered into any new military or political commitments," Churchill told the cheering House.

HIGHER EVEN THAN THE TAXES

162-Year Scottish Castle Blown Up by 10-Year-Old

GLASGOW, Scotland (Reuters)—A 162-year-old castle overlooking Loch Lomond today was a pile of rubble after being blown up by a 10-year-old boy.

Police stood by watching Monday as the lad, Sam Anderson, son of a Glasgow building contractor, set off 200 pounds of explosive destroying Tullichewan Castle.

The police had no reason to interfere because the castle belonged to young Sam's father. His father wasn't complaining either. He was the one who arranged to have the castle and its 350-foot tower destroyed because he could not afford the £500 a year taxes on the old landmark.

The police were on hand to keep back the crowds which had gathered to witness the explosion. Workmen had drilled 300 holes in the castle's six-foot-thick walls.

Fine Weather Forecast For Ballot Wednesday

Well over 20,000 Victorians are expected at the polls Wednesday to decide their city's future drinking habits.

The issue is whether or not Victoria is to have the new-type liquor outlets provided for in the new liquor act, introduced by the B.C. Legislature last year.

All indications lead to a big vote.

The issue has formed strong forces on either side and each has waged a vigorous campaign. The matter has been debated in public; thrashed out by various groups in private, and discussed in practically every home.

ISSUE DECIDED

On the eve of the vote, few people are undecided. After careful consideration, most have made up their minds as to how they will mark the four questions they must answer on the ballot.

Victoria has been building up to this vote since 1950 when citizens voted solely on the question of beer parlors. They rejected parlors then: 11,093 voting no, and 8,599 voting yes.

Here and elsewhere in the province, agitation grew for revision of the liquor law. In 1952, the whole province voted on the "liquor-by-the-glass plebiscite." The result in Victoria: 13,458 in favor of sale by the glass and 10,936 against.

As this was the general attitude of the whole province, the government set to work to scrap the old liquor law and to introduce a new one.

FOUR TYPES

It made provision, however, for citizens in each licensing area to pick and choose as to just how far they wished to go in opening up new outlets.

The Victoria plebiscite Wednesday will deal with all four types of permissible outlets: beer parlors, restaurants serving beer, ale, stout and wine; cabarets and cocktail bars.

Each question will be tallied separately and in each case a 55 per cent or better "yes" vote will be required before that particular type of outlet will be licensed.

Both the "yes" and "no" camps are working toward a large turnout of voters.

The Common-Sense Liquor Law Committee, asking people to vote "yes," and the Greater Victoria Citizens' Association, urging a "no" vote, are each conducting telephone campaigns, imploring people to exercise their franchise.

CAR POOL

In addition, each side has organized a car pool for transporting persons to the polls who cannot get their other way.

There are 34 polling places located centrally in every district.

The weather should encourage the few who might be half-hearted about turning out. It will be a sunny day.

NANAIMO GETS FIRST LIQUOR LICENSE

First new liquor licenses on Vancouver Island were approved today by liquor control board chairman D. McGugan.

Two licenses, a dining lounge license and a lounge license, will be granted the Mataspina Hotel, Nanaimo.

This was the first LCB announcement of licenses approved for V.I.

They will become effective shortly after the hotel completes alterations to its premises.

Lawyer Cited In Duncan's 'Brother' Case

'Obstruction' Laid Against Counsel

DUNCAN — Ronald McMillan Howard, North Vancouver lawyer, is scheduled to appear in police court here Wednesday morning to face a charge of obstructing the course of justice by deliberately misleading the court.

The charge arose out of identification of Douglas John Nelson last February 19, when Nelson was charged with selling beer to two constables.

At the trial, constables pointed out Leslie E. Nelson, Vancouver, brother of the accused, as the man who had sold them beer February 3. Leslie Nelson, standing at the rear of the courtroom, said he was in Vancouver at the time of the alleged offense.

After a five-minute recess, accused appeared, and on giving his name had the charge against him dismissed.

A few weeks later, however, he was charged by RCMP for a similar offense, and was found guilty.

Stevens-Schine Photo Doctored Army Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army charged today that a "doctored" photograph of Army Secretary Stevens with Pte. G. David Schine was introduced in the McCarthy-army hearings.

Joseph N. Welch, army counsel, protested to the Senate investigations sub-committee that the picture had been "shamefully" cut down to make it appear Stevens and Schine had been alone.

Yet, he said, it was introduced "as if it was honest."

The picture was presented to the hearing Monday by Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the sub-committee. However, Welch said he is sure Jenkins was "imposed upon." His implication was that the picture had been misrepresented to Jenkins by Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep.-Wis.) or those aiding McCarthy in the present hearings on the senator's dispute with army officials.

MALENKOV NAMES NEW MVD CHIEF

LONDON (AP)—Premier Georgi Malenkov reorganized the Soviet government today in a sweeping shakeup that brought in a new chief of the Russian secret police.

Malenkov handed over control of the MVD to A. I. Serov.

Serov took over control of the secret police from Interior Minister S. N. Kruglov, who retained his title.

Kruglov replaced Lavrenty Beria as MVD boss after Beria was arrested last year. Beria later was shot as a traitor.

EIGHTH DAY, ONE MORE TO GO

Audrey Tightens Belt Determined To Meet That 10-Pound Challenge

Audrey St. James Johnson, whose music and drama criticisms are well known to Times readers, is in a new role. She has consented to try out Josephine Lowman's 8-day diet and tell readers how it works. Her fifth report appears below. Today's diet is on Page 15.

By AUDREY ST. J. JOHNSON

What a little word of encouragement can do! Since the scales smiled on me on Sunday I'm filled with ambition to excel in the weight-lifting race.

With the record standing even at five days—five pounds, with the sixth day gone and the seventh on the wane, I realize I have to do even better if I am to meet the 10-pound challenge. So I am tightening my belt—and believe me, some of them need tightening—and watching with an even more eagle eye, the exact measurements of that piece of meat and that helping of squash or beans.

I'm sure it would rejoice Josephine Lowman's heart if she could see with what trust and faithfulness I am following her spartan diet. Not that it seems really spartan to me now. After the first couple of days the shock of the sudden descent from the heights of gluttony, passes, and one accepts the inevitable and even finds in it a sufficiency.

In fact, others have even more spartan ideas. My friend, Tam Merriman, whom you will remember experimented with the Lowman tubby hubby diet a while back, advises me to entirely eliminate salt.

"Then," says he, "food will become so repulsive to you, you won't have any desire to eat!"

All my friends are getting into the act one way and

1,100 Soldiers Due

OTTAWA (CP)—More than 1,100 Canadian soldiers are scheduled to land at a west coast port Friday, en route from the Far East, the army announced today.

What I can't understand is why th' folks who've bin refusin' t' buy likker by th' bottle don't jus' go quietly on an' refuse t' buy it by th' glass.

Wonder if McCarthy comes t' Canada nex' month he'll grab th' chance t' seek political asylum?

Ever'body's declarin' they don't want a big war in Indo-China— even Indo-China.

Interest Built Up, Fine Weather Forecast

Well over 20,000 Victorians are expected at the polls Wednesday to decide their city's future drinking habits.

The issue is whether or not Victoria is to have the new type liquor outlets provided for in the new liquor act introduced by the B.C. Legislature last year.

All indications forecast a big vote. The weather should encourage the few who might be half-hearted about turning out. It will be a sunny day.

The issue has formed strong forces on either side and each has waged a vigorous campaign. The matter has been debated in public; thrashed out by various groups in private, and discussed in practically every home.

ISSUE DECIDED

On the eve of the vote, few people are undecided. After careful consideration, most have made up their minds as to how they will mark the four questions they must answer on the ballot.

Victoria has been building up to this vote since 1950 when citizens voted solely on the question of beer parlors. They rejected parlors then; 11,093 voting no, and 8,999 voting yes.

Here and elsewhere in the province, agitation grew for revision of the liquor law. In 1952, the whole province voted on the "liquor-by-the-glass plebiscite." The result in Victoria: 13,458 in favor of sale by the glass and 10,936 against.

As this was the general attitude of the whole province, the government set to work to scrap the old liquor law and to introduce a new one.

FOUR TYPES
It made provision, however, for citizens in each licensing area to pick and choose as to just how far they wished to go in opening up new outlets.

The Victoria plebiscite Wednesday will deal with all four types of permissible outlets—beer parlors, restaurants serving beer, ale, stout and wine, cabarets and cocktail bars.

Each question will be tallied separately and in each case a 55 per cent or better "yes" vote will be required before that particular type of outlet will be licensed.

Both the "yes" and "no" camps are working toward a large turnout of voters.

The Common-Sense Liquor Law Committee, asking people to vote "yes," and the Greater Victoria Citizens' Association, urging a "no" vote, are each conducting telephone campaigns, requesting people to exercise their franchise.

Lawyer Cited In Duncan's 'Brother' Case

DUNCAN — Ronald McMillan Howard, North Vancouver lawyer, is scheduled to appear in police court here Wednesday morning to face a charge of obstructing the course of justice by deliberately misleading the court.

The charge arose out of identification of Douglas John Nelson last February 19, when Nelson was charged with selling beer to two constables.

At the trial, constables pointed out Leslie E. Nelson, Vancouver, brother of the accused, as the man who had sold them beer February 3. Leslie Nelson, standing at the rear of the courtroom, said he was in Vancouver at the time of the alleged offense.

After a five-minute recess, accused appeared, and on giving his name had the charge against him dismissed.

A few weeks later, however, he was charged by RCMP for a similar offense, and was found guilty.

Sultans and Sheiks Pay Homage to Queen

ADEN (CP)—Colorfully turbaned Arabs, sultans and sheiks of Britain's Aden protectorate pledged their loyalty today before the Queen.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at this Indian Ocean seaport colony early today aboard the Royal liner Gothic on the homeward stretch of their world circling tour which began last November. The Queen, dressed in a lemon-yellow silk gown, held an umbrella as protection from the sun as she and the duke rode in an open car to a reviewing stand placed in front of a statue of Queen Victoria.
